Curious Facts.

There are no distilleries, breweries or of vogue in France.

The pauperism of England and Wales costs the whole population $2.38 per head annually.

Yarmouth, England, owns many "public utilities," among them a music hall out of which the municipality made something like $4,000 last year.

In India native laborers receive four cents a day for sixteen hours' work.

The Mexican dollar is said to be rapidly disappearing from international circulation.

Munich has established a place where sterilized milk can be obtained by families whose annual incomes does not exceed $500.

A gold nugget weighing 120 ounces and valued at $2,000, recently picked up at a placer mine in Bark County, California, is said to be one of the largest ever found.

At a cost of 25 cents Japanese doctors can dress the wounds of 500 men. They use a finely powdered charcoal obtained by the slow combustion of straw in closed furnaces. Satchels filled with it are applied to the wounds, and its antiseptic absorbing qualities generally effect a rapid cure.

How to Escape Lightning.

Excellent authorities agree that in a thunderstorm the middle of a room is much the safest place in a house. A carpeted floor or one covered by a heavy thick rug is better to stand on than bare wood. It is well to keep away from chimneys and out of cellars. In the open air tall trees are dangerous.

A person sheltered under a low tree or shrub thirty or forty feet from a large and lofty tree is quite safe. If lightning strikes in the immediate vicinity it will hit the high tree as a rule, with few exceptions. Water is a very good conductor, and it is well to avoid the banks of streams in a violent thunderstorm.

Makes a Beautiful House Plant.

People who enjoy a bit of green in the house when fields and flower gardens are wrapped in the desolation of winter will find a sweet potato, planted in moist, loose earth or a jar of water, with the seed-end projecting upward, will make a beautiful growth of vine in a very short time. It resembles the English ivy, and rivals the glossy leaves of the wandering Jew for house decoration.

People Who Have Married in Lumpkin County.

We give below a list of persons who have married in Lumpkin county during the year 1904, as shown by the records of the ordinary—that is, all that have been recorded. If there are others, the license have not been returned yet: E. M. Martin to Eva London, Geo. Garret to Martha Mote, M. C. Rider to Lillie Gaddis, A. L. Jackson to Delila Reid, E. F. Dangler to Leah Williams, Herbert Pierce to Annie Elrod, Merida Prewit to Mary Reese, J. C. Whelehan to May Abercrombie, Lafayette Edge to Hattie Englund, Gregson Martin to Effie Conner, B. C. Ash to N. E. Seabolt, W. D. Walker to Maud Christman, Miles Lee to Pink Gaddis, L. M. Wells to Salie Tate, J. M. Ricketts to Delpha Lewis, Luke Anderson to Elizabeth Burges, M. E. Coldwell to Delia Walker, Wofford Porter to Fannie Prexit.

Jacob Loggins to Bell Chambers, John C. Brittain to Mary Perry, Henry Gaddis to Sarah Collins, J. E. Goudlock to Elizabeth Mays, Marve Grizzel to Mary Butler, William Grindle to Susan Armstrong, G. M. Wehnt to Nellie Pitts, James Anderson to Sarah Adams, James M. Hyden to Rose Whitmore, Miles Ralston to Isabell Linger felt, Arthur Patterson to M. Harris, H. M. Gilstrap to Ethel Redmond, R. M. Dowdy to Mary Anderson, Luther Walker to Lura Gaddell, Joseph Swain to Louisa Bryan, L. N. Davis to Alma S. St., Gus Hamilton to Pearl Castleberry, Geo. Clark to Ida Castleberry, John Grizzel to Nancy Mote, Willie Marr to Lizzie Walker, John S. Jones to Nora Tate, F. W. Jarrard to Malinda Jones, J. M. Bryan to Josephine Lee, J. B. Miller to Lizzie Gaddis, James M. Barnes to Ella Evans, Andrew Seabolt to Carrie Calhoun, Carrie Magness to Mollie Seabolt, Jack Whelehan, col., to Vista Martin, Joseph Stevens, col., to Bertha Castleberry, Benj. Ash to Vangie Grizzel, J. B. Chapman to Nancy Ash.

A Living Basket.

To make a hanging basket remove the inside of a carrot or sweet potato, leaving a wall about three-quarters of an inch thick. Pass cords through holes pierced in the sides, and fill the cavity with water, and the basket is complete. In a few days, putting sprays of green will sprout from the bottom and cover the outside. Then if a small bunch of violets is put in this quaint little cup, it will make a most charming addition to the room.

Wedding hydroelectricity has been brought to such a state of perfection that welding apparatus can be carried to a railroad track and two rails joined as solidly as if they had come out of the rolling mill one piece.

Lee Taylor, of Atlanta, was fined $25 and cost by Recorder Broyles for giving his eight-year-old son whiskey.

The city council of Gainesville has fixed the license for the salaried fixtures in that city at $10.

What College Does for the American Boy.

In the enriching of one's life a father sending his boy to college may give a special value to the word friendship. For it is a word significant in the college language. I have known a wise father to say, "I will send my boy to college even for the sake of the friendships he will make." College friendships! What a world of love, of associations, and of associates they open! They are wrought into literature as well as into life. The greatest poem of the last century commemoates a college friendship. There are no friends so natural, so genuine, so warm, so true, so satisfying as those formed in college. In life's failures, college friends are the ones who still love us. In life's triumphs, their congratulations give the most contentment. The father may, indeed, well think of the friend whom he will give to his son by opening to him the college doors.

But the father will also learn that through the college he is able to fit his son not only for self-knowledge of life, but also for the richest service to the community. His son will become a better citizen by reason of his academic residence. I do not fail to recognize that the impression prevails that the so called higher education may so lift the man above the uneducated that he is unwilling to try to be of common public service. Neither do I fail to recognize the fact that education refines the taste as well as informs the judgment. I am painfully aware that examples can be found of graduates who seem to glory in their remoteness and aloofness from common interests. But notwithstanding all such conditions and examples, the fact remains that a college education usually not only prepares a man to be of better service to the people, but also inspires him with a wish to be of better service. The education opens his eyes to opportunities to which he would otherwise have been blind. It gives to him breadth and depth of sympathy with the community, as well as increasing his power of meeting the demands which it justly makes. It not only gives him a richer manhood, it creates in him a finer character.—Ex.

South Carolina has probably both the easiest and the hardest marriage laws of any state of the union, says the Marietta Journal. It is the simplest thing in the world to get married in South Carolina, and an impossibility to get unmarried. No license is required, and no divorce is permitted. Just about anybody can make a couple man and wife, but no person can put them asunder. Jump over a broom stick together in South Carolina and you are married, forever and forever. But be as disreputable as you please, and you are still married. The peculiar case with which marriages are made binding has some drawbacks. There is no official register kept of such contracts. To correct this bill there has been introduced into the legislature requiring a license before marriage. The fee is to be nominal; merely enough to pay for the keeping of the records.

Lee Taylor, of Atlanta, was fined $25 and cost by Recorder Broyles for giving his eight-year-old son whiskey.

The city council of Gainesville has fixed the license for the salaried fixtures in that city at $10.

Hour of Opportunity.

Among the many wise and excellent utterances of Dr. Samuel Johnson it would be difficult to find better than this:

"To improve the golden moment of opportunity and catch the good that is within our reach is the great art of life."

The success of every young man, whether he be born with a silver spoon in his mouth or a wooden one, depends on his ability to see and seize every opportunity, great or small, that confronts him.

Critical moments freighted with opportunity, constantly confront us all through life. As Victor Hugo aptly expressed it: "Heaven on occasions half opens its arms to us, and that is the great moment."

To recognize, to seize, to turn to account that Heaven-born moment is the leap at once upon victory ground for gaining the victory of life.

It is not lack of opportunity, but neglect of it or inability to see it, that causes so many failures in life. Thousands of men have made fortunes out of trifles which others passed by. As the bees sip honey from the same flower, so some men will wrest fortune from the commonest and meanest things, as scraps of leather, cotton waste, slag, iron filings, from which others only get poverty and failure.—Success.

In the Ohio penitentiary there is a certain row of cells that is known as "Bankers' Row." During the past few days there has been considerable house cleaning in that division. In that state there are at this time eighteen bankers under indictment for various violations of the banking laws, and it is regarded as practically certain that "Bankers' Row" will be well populated before a great while.—Ex.

The blizzard of last week held the entire country in its icy grip, doing much damage in many states. Ships were wrecked by gales. In Kentucky the mercury fell to six degrees below zero.

The grand jury of Hall last week decided to give the money for that county arising from convict hire to the public schools. It amounts to a thousand dollars.

If Macon doesn't mind Atlanta will get the next state fair. It is a mighty hard to down the business men of the latter place when they all set their heads for anything that can be done that will benefit the city.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, FEB. 3, 1905.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

John D. Rockefeller's present income is said to be $6,000,000 a month.

Down near Meadow, in Gwinnett county, a whole family has the smallpox.

The impeachment trial of Judge Swayne, the federal judge of the Northern District of Florida, is up before congress on Feb. 10.

At the farmers' convention at New Orleans last week they decided to hold their cotton until they could get 10 cents a pound for it, and reduce the acreage.

Gov. Terrell does not want the state represented by negroes and will not allow the negro company at Macon to attend the inauguration of President Roosevelt.

On the 28th of January the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association completed plans for pooling and retiring 2,000,000 bales of cotton from the market.

An effort is being made to raise sufficient money to erect a monument in the center of the public square in Gainesville to the memory of the veterans of the confederacy who lived in the Ninth District. The Hall county grand jury recommended that the commissioners of that county give $500 towards it.

Up in White county the other day an old widower went to see a widow. When he landed she was gone and the children were riding around the house on corn stalks. So he jumped astride of his stick and joined in with the young people till the old woman came in sight. Then he threw his stick away and met her with a smile, and not a grunt.

We would advise all the merchants to sell no smoking tobacco to minors, as it is a violation of the state law. This is a duty that every citizen should look after and punish all violators. The legislature should amend the law and make it a violation for any person to smoke a cigarette in the state of Georgia, says the Young Harris News. The boys can all get smoking tobacco in Dahlonega too, regardless of size, age or color.

It will be remembered that R. D. Mitchel, during the summer offered as a prize, a United States flag to the county giving Hon. T. M. Bell the largest majority over "Big Jim" Ashley for congress. The flag was awarded to Gwinnett county, the vote standing as follows: Ashley 327, Bell 1,725. The manufacturers made a mistake and sent a Confederate flag, but it is more appropriate. It is 15 feet long and 9 wide. Hurrah for old Gwinnett!

Ex-Sheriff M. C. Gilmer is suing Hall county for a small sum which his attorneys claim he is due as a part of his lawful fees for conveying prisoners from and to jail court times. The question in issue is whether this fee shall be paid by the county or by defendants as a part of the cost of prosecution. The case has been heard before Judge Russell and again before Judge Kimsey, and a judgment for the plaintiff resulted. It will be carried as a test case to the Supreme court.

Bro. Davidson, of the Cleveland Courier, who was a delegate to the convention at Dahlonega that nominated Mr. Ashley, the republican for congress in his last issue says: "The probability is that the democratic anti-slavery will put forth a strong candidate democratically speaking—a man with stacks of money—and Tom will again have a hot time. However if there is no republican in the race at that time we will do as we did last April, shake a bush for Bell."

A negro weekly paper has been established at Covington, Ga.

Several cases of smallpox have been reported in Wilkes county.

During last week's cold wave milk bottles exploded in Atlanta and stoves bursted in Macon.

Three hundred and fifty bales of cotton is being held on the state farm until a better price can be had for it.

Congress has appropriated $40,000 to defray the expenses of the senate in conducting the trial of Judge Swayne.

The Japs and Russians commenced fighting again last week, being the first engagement since the fall of Port Arthur.

If the planters reduce the acreage of cotton there will not be such a demand for mules. A mule stands for eight bales of cotton.

Things are more calamitous among the strikers and soldiers in St. Petersburg now, though many lives was lost during the trouble.

They whistled a tune in one of the Macon churches the other day. What would our grand fathers have said about a thing of this kind in their time?

The Supreme court has decided that a member of a city council cannot contract with the body to do work for the town or city which he represents.

J. M. Beard, who is charged with the murder of W. O. Hammond, in Hall county, was adjudged insane last week, and will be sent to the asylum instead of the scaffold.

The other day Charles Ware, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a new thousand and five hundred dollar cotton plantation near Americas, Ga., containing one thousand acres, which will be immediately planted in peach orchards. There is much more money in peaches than cotton now.

A school boy in this city had a thrilling experience one day recently, says the Commerce News. He violated the rules of school and his teacher flogged him. His mother found it out and licked him. His father knew nothing of what the mother had done and when he came home he blistered him. The boy still lives.

State Treasurer Robert E. Park received a letter last week from a justice of the peace in Campbell county stating that one of the men on the pension roll from that county had only served three months in the Confederate army and after that time he had deserted to the enemy. The justice requested the state treasurer to make an investigation of the matter before paying the pension. Commissioner Lindsey is now investigating the papers, and will not pay it until he is fully satisfied the man did not desert.

Even preachers have trials and troubles like country editors and other nice folks. We learn that one of the former, being Mr. Fretwell, the new pastor of the Methodist church at Dawsonville, is under a hundred dollar bond for his appearance at Dawson Superior court, charged with unmercifully beating a twelve-year-old child of Andy Pinion.

The divine is an assistant school teacher in the Dawsonville High school, who gave the boy a pretty severe whipping for some smart talk. After the boy went home his father got mad and gave his son another bad whipping, and the war on the boy from the saint and sinner in a single day made it pretty tough on one of tender years. After peace at home had been declared an examination was made of the boy's hide. It was found to be broken by the lash in several places, but which did it, the preacher or father, will be the question for the jury to determine. Mr. Pinion swore out a warrant for the preacher, who was arrested and gave a $800 bond and a date was fixed for a criminal trial. When the time arrived he waived examination, made bond as before stated.

Caroline Woodward, a negro woman, died in Atlanta last Saturday morning at the ripe old age of 115.

During the last engagement between the Japs and Russians the first lost, 5,000, and the latter 10,000 men.

A Texas farmer proposes to plant 500 acres in cucumbers this year. If he does, there will be a big demand for doctors in that vicinity.

Telegraphic advices from the Japanese Manchurian headquarters, dated the 29th ult., say that the Russians were beaten back, and five hundred officers and men were taken by the Japs.

Mrs. Henry Grizelle, of Union county, through an attorney, has sued the Southern Railroad for $30,000 damages, by the loss of her husband who was killed by a train while crossing the track at Norcross, Ga., some time ago.

Judging from a recent article about Collector Crum, col. in the Mt. Airy Protectionist, we were led to believe that Bro. Wilcox favored negroes to good white republicans in office. The editor stated last week that such was not the case, which we report to our readers with pleasure.

As the result of rather conflicting reports with regard to the copper furnaces at Ducktown and the amount of injury they are still doing to the foliage and forests in the northern part of the state, Attorney General Hart has written to the bureau of forestry, department of agriculture, at Washington, asking that an expert be sent to this section in order to investigate and report just what damage, if any, is now being done by this agency.

Dock Erwin left for Dallas, Ga., last Monday, where he goes to put up a stamp mill.

The grip has struck Dahlonega with full force, accompanied with all the attachments.

Hot drinks, Coca Cola, fresh parched peanuts, etc., etc., kept by Garland Strickland in the J. F. Moore building.

Hon. Dick Black, Dawson county's representative in the legislature, was up on a visit to relatives in Dahlonega this week.

We notice that Mr. Ashley was down in Dawson county recently, together with two other gentlemen, trying to make a timber deal.

Up about Porter Springs last week the strong wind blew down trees, several barns, corn cribs and tore down Col. Farrow's telegraph line.

W. F. Keamum will move his family next week down to Milton county, where he recently purchased a farm. Mr. Keamum will not go himself for awhile.

What about a fellow wanting his home paper on a credit on account of hard times, and yet is able to raise money to send for papers published elsewhere?

Floyd Ducket, who recently accepted a job at the marble works in Pickens county, was called home this week on account of one of his children being very sick.

The very severe blizzard of last week has caused a number of our citizens to be housed up with the grip. Such weather as that gets next to us down here in the Suny South.

The revenue officers are putting out bait for the purpose of locating another still in operation under a house near Dahlonega and expect to get the direct course at an early period.

We received a very interesting communication from Randa this week, but without the writer's real name. Bear in mind that your name must accompany all communications. The name is not to be published unless desired, but is kept for our protection.

Joseph Townsend went out on Monday and killed a 13-pound gobbler on the wing. It was his first and you can imagine how he felt and acted. The next day every body big enough to carry a gun nearly went hunting to the same place—ladies excepted of course, for they remained at home preparing big vessels to cook the game in. The whole mountain was covered with people, but not a single turkey was brought in that day.

For a few years some pensioners residing in Atlanta, Dawson county and other places, whose names appear on the Lumpkin county roll, ought to have been transferred to the proper counties when they moved away. Judge Evans will carry out the instructions later on. It is reported that a widow woman now residing in Tennessee still draws her Georgia pension, who comes back annually and remains just long enough to make out her claim. If this be true she is not legally entitled to it.

Judge Evans was notified by the authorities of the lunatic asylum this week that no criminal after being convicted of any offense and afterwards goes crazy will hereafter be admitted into that institution, in accordance with a recent act of the legislature. This is a good law. Had it been passed long ago more murderers would have met their just reward instead of being sent to the asylum. If any murderer succeeds in going crazy hereafter he will have to be sent to the prison farm. And all those of this nature now in the asylum will have to be removed to the prison farm at the expense of the county sending them.

Frank Wimpy's hand came in contact with a window light last Sunday while he was throwing a snowball, cutting two places to the bone.

It is not our fault that our subscribers at Half Way and at other offices didn't get their NUGGET on time last week. The attention of the proper ones has been called to the matter and it will not likely occur any more.

Ladies are full of curiosity. One wrote to the clerk of the Superior court here this week from Kingman, Arizona, asking how the Notary Publics are appointed in Georgia. So anxious was she to know that she enclosed a stamp for a reply.

Already in some of the dry counties the state courts have commenced handling druggists and other persons for selling intoxicating drugs as a substitute for liquor. The city council here has been appealed to by citizens to take some steps in the matter, and some action will likely be taken by the body at its regular monthly meeting next Monday night.

We are glad to learn that a rural mail route will soon be established that will take in a portion of our county. It will start at Murrayville, Hall county, and run up to Shoal Creek law ground, in Lumpkin. Then back the Clarkesville road via Grace postoffice, to Tnesatee, in White, then back by Cross Roads and Stolo, in Hall and to Murrayville, the beginning point. We are proud for all the citizens along the line. They have had energy and public spirit enough to ask, and it has been received. Others would receive like conveniences in this county if they only had the vim. Arise from your sleepy condition and make an effort.

The past week has been one of much idleness on account of the variety of weather we have had—wind, snow, warm sunshine and mud. Monday after the snow was bright and warm causing much mud. Late in the afternoon two gentlemen started out for a buggy ride drawn by a blind mule, and the animal disliking the sloppy roads about as much as the men, brought the trip to a sudden stop by running up on the bank, turning the buggy over, and right there those men made their first good impression—in the mud. The ground was freezing and the next morning their finger prints and the sign left in the mud while getting the buggy turned back, resembled Track Rock Mountain.

Judge Evans has already made arrangements with a party in Ozelothorpe county to take all the convicts, big, little, white or black, old or young, either blind or crippled, sentenced by the Judge in Lumpkin county, delivered at Gainesville, and to receive $8 per month each. Now the crippled party who was convicted in Lumpkin county not long ago for running a blind tiger in the lower part of the county and left off under a suspended sentence with an understanding that he "go and sin no more," had better suspend business unless he wants to get a permanent job, as it is reported that he has grabbed up the tiger tail again, and if he does not let go it is sure to bite him.

Not many months ago J. A. Lance, of Lumpkin county, went west, but he didn't stay long until he returned. He said it was a good country, causing some to wonder why he didn't stay. They had no idea then that there was a person here that he thought more of than all the western country combined. The following explains it: On last Sunday Mr. Lance was wedded to Miss Callie Anderson. It was a runaway match, and the ceremony was performed at a neighbor's house. Not because there is anything against the groom, for there isn't. He is a school teacher and no nicer young man resides in Lumpkin county. The only objection is the mother of the bride is a widow, lady and she hates to be left alone.

The flag offered as a prize by W. B. Smith, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of the 9th District, to the county giving Hon. T. M. Bell the largest vote for congress in proportion to the registration was won by Lumpkin, and the same has been received by county chairman, John H. Moore. It is a Confederate flag 9x15 containing the picture of George Washington. Three cheers for Col. W. B. Smith.

Even the blockaders business froze up last week.

On the 18th of March, the 1st Quarterly meeting will be held at Soul's Chapel.

We regret to learn that Rev. W. H. McAfee is sick with pneumonia in Atlanta.

Have you had your job work done yet? If not, call around to THE NUGGET office.

Although the eggs were frozen last week they sold at the same price—20 cents a dozen.

The freeze last week killed some of the ladies' flowers and destroyed some of their canned fruit.

Watch the bulletin board at J. F. Moore & Co.'s store. Cheapest place to buy goods in Dahlonega.

Those having accounts against the city council will please hand them in by Monday noon to W. B. Townsend.

It was Henly Wimpy who got his foot cut last week, and not Hinch Wimpy. We got their initials mixed in our last issue.

It is not often here that people have to quit work on account of cold weather, but last week they sure did have to suspend for a few days.

On Wednesday night of last week it was so cold it housed up the chicken thief, but the following night he made a successful raid.

See Garland Strickland's ad, elsewhere. He is now located next door below Mrs. Strickland's millinery store, ready to serve you all the citizens along the line. They have had energy and public spirit enough to ask, and it has been received.

Quite a number of Lumpkin county's citizens are working over at Ducktown. If a man wants plenty of work to do, there is the place to go. If not, stay away.

We believe if the company would extend the telephone line out to some point on the railroad in Pickens county, that it would pay well.

The school teachers of this county were made glad last week by receiving their money, and in a few days the soldiers and widows of the confederate veterans will be paid their pensions, causing more pleasure and happiness in the land.

Some of the inmates of the jail here were under the impression that the building shook during the wind the other night, as did other buildings. The jail is the best constructed building in the town and when it shakes, things are getting pretty "squally."

Women should not carry a stuffed pocket book for a show. The other day one went all over town, having one in her hand that looked like it was so full of money that it would burst, and the second day after she made the round she sent to us to borrow two dollars.

Deputy Marshal Grizzel went out into Dawson county last week and destroyed a big illicit distillery. The copper was a $0 or $5 gallons vessel, and the amount of beer and mash is estimated to be three thousand gallons. Oscar Pinion and another fellow were running it. Oscar was arrested but his partner made his escape.

G. W. Grizzel, brother of Deputy Marshal Grizzel, of Dahlonega, has been appointed U. S. deputy marshal, and has been located at Bowersville, in Hart county. Mr. Grizzel left this week for his new field to begin his duties. He has been helping his brother here for several years and know what to do when a distillery is visited by him.

The flag offered as a prize by W. B. Smith, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of the 9th District, to the county giving Hon. T. M. Bell the largest vote for congress in proportion to the registration was won by Lumpkin, and the same has been received by county chairman, John H. Moore. It is a Confederate flag 9x15 containing the picture of George Washington. Three cheers for Col. W. B. Smith.

The members of the college brass band occasionally give us some right good music.

Rev. Mr. Blackburn came up from Gainesville and filled his appointment at the Presbyterian church at this place last Sunday.

Since the state oratorical contest between various colleges has been abandoned the students here are not taking the interest in their literary societies as they did before.

Col. Farrow intended visiting Dahlonega and Porter Springs last week but after reaching Gainesville it is supposed that his throat got worse and he returned to Atlanta.

As thieves have been doing a successful business down at Gainesville it is well enough for the citizens of Dahlonega to be on the alert. There is no telling when they will strike this town.

Those knowing how, enjoyed themselves skating on the ponds near Dahlonega last week during the freeze, which is a rare occurrence, as it does not get cold enough for skating here often.

The Signal reports that an ordinance was passed by the city council last week to compel boys to stay off the streets of Dahlonega at night. There has been no such an ordinance passed yet but ought to be.

With a 620 pound mule last year Mr. Wilbanks made 811 bushels of corn on a portion of the John Jenkins farm. This proves that it does not require big stock to make large crops of corn. Knowledge of the work and the will-power is the main points.

A deputy collector came up last Saturday to destroy a still captained by Marshal Grizzel in Dawson county a few days ago. It is pretty expensive to have a man driven in a two-horse rig twenty-five miles to do this, when the marshal could have cut it up in five minutes without any cost to the government. But this is Bucker's orders and they must be carried out if it bursts the government.

The gale of last week seemed to be much severer nearer the mountains than here, although the wind blew strong here. Both the houses of Billie Rider and Job Beck were unroofed and a large amount of fine timber destroyed in that section. Trees measuring nearly two feet through were broken off as if they had been corn stalks. The only way to utilize the timber is to haul it to some saw mill.

By referring to our first page you will see a list of nearly all having married in Lumpkin county during the year 1904. It is as complete as can be furnished, as some of the preachers and officials are very slow sometimes about returning the license, and then again a fellow very often gets his license and keeps them in his pocket for weeks. For instance an officer returned license on the 15th inst. that were issued on the 1st of December. The fellow was making a thorough survey of the ground before he jumped.

While the town was in darkness Saturday night some of the boys got so full of mischief that they couldn't stand it any longer. At an early hour they fired the canon, and between 11 and 12 o'clock gained an entrance into the college and pulled the bell cord for some time, scaring everybody who were awake, thinking it was an alarm for another fire. The ringing of a bell after night for fire is a heavy penalty and if the perpetrator is caught up with, he will likely remember it. The firing of the canon hurts no body except the boys' pocket books, but ringing the bell may cause the whole town to be disturbed some time, for if it was to ring for fire now people would think that it was another false alarm, and pay no attention to it. It may be until it was too late. Boys, stop it. It's dangerous fun. Enjoy yourselves in some other manner.

We learn that Mr. John R. Graham has been appointed postmaster at Two Run, Ga.

Marion Duckett, Paton and Thomas killed fourteen "footlong tails" near Porter Springs last Monday.

Mr. Charlie Moore left for Milner last Monday, where he goes to resume his duties in the town of W. M. Rice, of that place.

Mr. Breyman, the president of the Standard Gold Mining Co., after a short absence to his home in Toledo, Ohio, has returned and is again giving the Singleton his undivided attention.

We are told that the reason the fellow got mad at his father and left for other parts recently, is because the old man wouldn't sign a note and agree to pay off a debt of his son with his coming pension money.

To the delight of all hunters and young people we had a snow Sunday afternoon to a depth of two and a half to three inches, and the next day all were out rabbit hunting—two for each rabbit. Even boys who are usually so afraid of catching cold that their mothers have to warm their pants every morning, were up and out hunting before breakfast.

On last Sunday in the forenoon City Marshal Walker had a call over the phone line from Chief of Police Harbison, of Gainesville. He said that a gentleman was there from Dalton, Ga., who was in search of his brother Tom Daniel, aged 25, who left that place in December, and his mind was believed to be unbalanced. He is a machinist and the last his folks had heard from the wandering man was a letter written home by him at Cumming, Ga., stating that he was coming to Dahlonega to search for a job. But if the party has yet been in Dahlonega no one here is aware of the fact, and information to this effect was passed back.

The recent sensation up in Porter Springs district may result in a serious difficulty yet if what we understand is true. It is this: A certain married man up there succeeded in bringing grief and sorrow to a household in that section, and seeing that he was likely to get his own foot into it, persuaded the girl off from home the other night and got her to agree to go with him and another friend or two to swear out a warrant before Squire Ridley, of Cane Creek district, for another married man in her community, shouldering high with the trouble. The squire refused to issue the warrant. Then they went to the squire of Yahoola district, where the same opposition was met, in the meantime a friend conveyed the news to the girl's father and the other fellow, and it was not long till they tracked them up and the troubled parent had his unfortunate daughter marching home.

Until last week no merchant or clerk in Dahlonega ever raised their hats to a negro woman, but though it was done by a clerk through a mistake, the woman having such fair skin that he thought she was white. She says that she is a graduate of some college in Atlanta and the object of her visit to Dahlonega was to get a job of teaching. A teacher being needed out at the colored school house in the Anderson settlement the graduate was sent out there to begin her duties in teaching the young Indians how to shoot. There will be a considerable contrast between the teacher and her pupils; for the Indians are dark complected, as well as the trustees, knowing but little about educational matters. One uses "dog latin" when he gets a dozen drinks and the other calls his feather bed "he." Yet colored school officials are not themselves in getting drunk in this county. Some of the white trustees of public schools get so full of the over joyful that they don't know a school house from a turkey pen, and where schools are controlled by such men the institutions are rarely ever prosperous.

Ben Spencer, of White county, charged with illicit distilling, was acquitted by Com. Baker last Wednesday.

The widow of this county who married again after the civil war and was drawing an illegal pension, was being dropped from the roll.

Every student except two went out to hear Mr. Blackburn preach last Sunday. They all like him and he appreciates their appearance.

Dahlonega, after being in dark for a week on account of the Hand canal freezing up, is again receiving the benefits of the electric lights.

Rossmaster Tate informs us that when any of the mills are late that he reports them in accordance with the instructions of the department.

See notice elsewhere of the dissolution of Tate, Littlefield & Co. J. E. Tate takes charge of the stable and will open out a store next week at the stand now occupied by the company.

We learn that J. F. Ash, of Lumpkin county, who has been at work at the Ducktown copper mines, got one of his legs broken a few days ago by the car backing on him while he was engaged in loading it.

Gao Peck was brought in this week by Marshal Grizzel, charged with operating an illicit distillery which was destroyed near his premises a few days ago, who was bound over and made bond for his appearance in Atlanta.

Since an ordinary in Georgia last year had the misfortune of being robbed of $800 pension money and all the checks for the veterans of his county, many of them have Comptroller General Wright to look after them. He recommended his accommodation on Wednesday by acting as power of attorney for 4000 pensioners. He will collect $250,000 and send his personal check for the same. The thieves of Atlanta are always awake and by doing this they have no chance.

Mining Notes.

The blizzard of last week caused the directors meeting of the Crown Mountain Co. to be postponed until the 9th inst.

We are just recovering from the worst blizzard that has been known in this section for many years. For a week the water has been off of the Hand canal and other ditches, causing all mining operations to suspend until day before yesterday and yesterday, something very unusual here. Some prospecting did commence at the lower Etowah last Monday under its new management.

They Told the Old Negro He Would be Killed.

A colored man from Tennessee who works for Prof. Davis, came in the office the other day and said he wanted the people of his section to know that Dahlonega had been greatly misrepresented to him before he left there, and he intended writing back to the paper of his town, informing them of the fact. He said before he left the northern republicans there told him that he could not live there. That he would be beat and cuffed about, and if he voted for a republican would be killed at once. They scared him so that he was afraid to come, although he had been promising Prof. Davis a year that he would, but kept putting him off until at last he decided to try it. He says that he was never treated better anywhere than he has been in Dahlonega, and that the colored people here are treated better than they deserve. It is a little strange that people will tell bare-faced lies like this about the people of this section, when they know it to be false at the time. The colored people and all other persons, matters not what political party they belong, or where they come from, are never insulted unless they make the first effort.

DESIGNING A HEAD.

An Interesting Torsorial Operation by the Famous White Whistler.

"A master of the art," says the description of the brilliant and eccentric artist, James MacNeill Whistler, is the word which seems best to fit the curious combination of personal peculiarities-mischiefous wit, tricky jests, gay quarrels, harmless vanities and remarkable artistic skill which are revealed in Mr. MacNeill Whistler's recent recreations of his "Master." The eccentricities of Whistler's character were matched by those of his appearance for he never dressed like anybody else, and he had, just over his left eye, a single lock of white hair and a mass of dark hair on the same side. In his appearance was great, for he regarded the composition of costume and coiffure with the same seriousness which he would have bestowed upon the composition of a picture, and indeed the result was unmistakably picturesque.

"Our figures ceased to be interested in their own hair," says Mr. Menpes of Whistler's entrance into a barber's shop. "Operators stopped their manipulations; every one turned to watch Whistler, who himself was supremely unconscious. His hair was first trimmed and then combed, the hair being meanwhile directed the cutting of every lock as he watched the barbers in the glass. He, poor fellow, only too conscious of the delicacy of his task, shook and trembled as he manipulated the scissors. The clipping completed, Whistler waved the operators impertinently from one side, and we observed for some time the view of his diminutive figure, stepping backward and forward, surveying himself in the glass. Suddenly he put his head into a basin of water, and then, half drying his hair, took it into muted wavy locks. With these he combed, picked out the white locks, and dressed it in form and walked about for five minutes pinching it dry, with the rest of his hair hanging over his face-a stage which much amused the onlookers.

"Still pinching the towel, he then beat the rest of his hair in rings, then combed them, and then gave them the right quality until they fell into decorative waves all over his head. A loud scream would then rend the air. Whistler wanted a comb. This procured, he would comb the white lock into a feathery plume and with a few broad strokes of his hand form the whole into a picture. Then he would look benignantly at himself in the glass and say but two words, 'Menpes amazing' and sail triumphantly out of the shop."

"Excellent," says Menpes. "I see that an eastern editor says that as a matter of fact women form clubs simply as an excuse for eating and drinking between meals."

"Horrid thing! Is he married or single?"

"Because if he's either he doesn't deserve to be,"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a few days off. I was getting my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ill and worn out, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and decided to then buy another to be good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it the best and most excellent for worn-out nerves and an excellent aid in pleasurable endurance of it.

MRS. M. M. FINDLEY
vs.
J. B. ADAMS.

Forclosure of a Mortgage in Lumpkin Superior Court, 1904.

To J. B. Adams, greeting, by order of the court, you are hereby required to be at my office personally or by attorney, at the next term of this court and show cause, on or before the first day thereof, why a certain mortgage given by you to me, the plaintiff, for the sum of twenty dollars, dated the 20th day of November, 1900, and due November 1st, 1901, with interest from that date at 8 percent, on a lot of land number 138, in the 11th District of originally Hall, now Lumpkin county, Georgia, being the part of said lot purchased by me from Isaac Brown, should not be foreclosed and the equity of redemption therein forever barred.

In default of the court will proceed to justice in all appropriate ways.

Witness, Honorable J. Kinsey, Judge of said court. This the 31st day of December, 1904.

JOHN H. MOORE, Clerk.

Dreary Life of Poor in Russia.

As a rule, a Russian village is a forlorn looking place, where the huts of the poor are made of birch logs, with upright oak or pine supports, ceiling of strips of the same birch and walls lined with crude branches. In these huts there are only two rooms, one of which is not for every-day use, but is kept for best occasions. This room houses those sacred images so dear to the heart of every member of the Greek church, to which belongs the great mass of the Russian people.

The other room serves the purpose of both kitchen and sleeping room, as one of the principal ideas of comfort to these people, ice and snowbound for so many months of the year is warmth. In many of the peasant huts no beds are used, and the top of a great stove, reaching nearly to the roof, is a much sought sleeping place. Although the conditions make dirt and accompanying results insuperable in the life of these peasants, they are devotedly fond of bathing. The vapor bath in a crude form may be called a national institution.

If the Lord made anything prettier than a girl, there's a heap of fellers that don't know what it is.

Heart to Heart Talk.

A country editor in a heart-to-heart editorial with his delinquent subscribers said:

"Good morning. Have you paid your subscription this year? Perhaps you owe for last year, or several years. Now, you understand we don't need the money; we have millions—but to get it is really an imposition to let people go on carrying our money when so strong and healthy and so abundantly able to bear the burden ourselves. For this reason we ask anyone who has any of our money in his possession to leave it at the office or send it by post, freight train, express or any other way, just so it gets here. Silver and gold are heavy, and it would be a matter of life-long regret to us if anybody should get bowlegged carrying it about for us!" If you are behind on your subscription I would be glad to get a personal check, money or express order, New York Exchange, registered letter, stamps, or have you put in a coin card and mail it at any risk. The important thing is to start it our way before you pay it to some one else, or spend it or

No; neither will the engine stop the minute the men suspend shoveling in coal. The point is, however, that when the engine is to be started up ten times as much will have been lost in power as has been saved in fuel.—Wharton Eagle.

Wastes on the Farm.

One of the most universal wastes of the farm arises from the practice of keeping scrub stock, which is likely to occasion loss rather than profit. Coincident with this is the common waste resulting from careless feeding and lack of proper shelter for and attention to farm stock. The neglect of probably the majority of farmers to keep close account of the various details of farm expense and production results in farmers continuing to raise thus scrub stock, whereas they would otherwise weed it out without delay.

The farmer's wife is to the farm what at the mansions is to the watch. If you let her run down you will see.

The Many-Sided Wife.

Why should a woman want to hold more offices than she already holds? Why should she desire to engage in other business than that of a woman?

The woman who is a true wife holds more offices and transacts more business than any dozen men,

She is a financier. No statesman studies his budget closer than she. She knows to a cent the revenue and expenditure of her household. When she brings in a bill for appropriation, it usually passes the house. Her expenditures require no auditing. She is a ruler and a wise one.

She is a judge who sits impartially, and whose findings are seldom reversed. She is sometimes judge and jury, and is judge of both the law and facts. And she is her officer to carry out her decrees.

She is a capable designer. Given a fashion plate and a few suggestions from a neighbor woman, she designs if indeed she does not build, her own clothes and those of her children, keeping an eye between times to the architecture of the husband's garments.

Viewed commercially, the average wife is credit woman, correspondent, buyer, bookkeeper and clerk—in some instances she occasionally does the work of porter and roustabout.

In a parliamentary sense she is chairman of the ways and means committee. Her committee sits constantly, and frequently constitutes itself a committee of the whole to carry out its own report.

She is a doctor, lawyer, preacher and what is more important teacher of her own brood. Her course of instruction comprises both morals and manners. Her curriculum is a practical one, adapted to the needs of the occasion.

But the greatest office perhaps is that of queen or helpmeet. She co-operates with mind and heart in all the hopes and plans for king. She shares his fears, divides his responsibilities and multiplies his joys.—Hidalgo Advance.

Shutting Off Steam.

He Couldn't Help Being Good.

A well known preacher recently spoke at a religious service in a jail, says the Philadelphia Telegraph. He noticed that one of the convicts seemed extraordinarily impressed. After the service he sought him out and continued the good work by remarking:

"My dear sir, I hope you will profit by my remarks just now and become a new man."

"Indeed I will," was the reply. "In fact, I promise you that I will never commit another crime, but will lead an exemplary life to my dying day."

"Good," said the domine, "but are you sure that you will be able to keep the promise?"

"Oh, yes," was the cheerful reply of the convict. "I'm in jail for life."

Effect of Social Glass.

The New York World thus tells the story of the downfall of a well-known New York bank clerk:

Garyn R. Dick, former clerk of the check department of the Chase National Bank, sat on a bench in the room for visitors at the Work House on Blackwell's Island. He wore prison trousers, prison shoes and a prison hat.

"Tipping brought me here," he said, "just a drink or two a day with a friend. That's what downed me. Moderate drinking is the most insidious form of indulgence."

"It was moderate drinking also brought my wife here. She had her circle of friends, and they had their social glass. She will agree with me that the hard drinker has not so much to fear as those who take a social glass regularly."

How a Dyak Makes Love.

When a Dyak of Dorneo makes love he helps the girl in the hardest portion of her daily toil. If she smiles upon him, no matter how sweetly, he does not immediately respond, but waits until the next dark night. Then he steals to her house and awakens her as she lies asleep beside her parents. The parents, if they approve, make no sign, but sleep on—or pretend to. If the girl accepts she rises and takes from her lover the betel and sweetmeats he has brought her. That seals their betrothal and he departs as he came, neither speaking nor being spoken to.

Divorce suits continue to accumulate in the courts of the country, and odd things crop out in the trial of the cases. For instance, in New York court the other day, a man wanted to be separated from his wife because she wore her boots, corset and skirts in bed. He said that she was afraid the house would catch fire, hence always went to bed prepared to jump out and make her escape at the slightest alarm. The court received its opinion as to whether this should be considered an adequate ground for setting aside the marriage contract.

Farmers are the longest lived of all the laboring classes, and if they lived up to their privileges, their longevity would be greatly increased. There is no place like a farm for the children. Here the boys and girls have plenty of chance to play out of doors, to dig in the dirt and bask in the sun, and to live close to Nature in all the period of body-building. In this way the foundations of good health are laid.

Sit down in disinterested idleness and the world is a hotel. Get up and sing and work and you will find it a palace.

A Secluded Spot.

"Will you walk into my parlor?" said the spider to the fly.

"I've found a nice secluded spot where no one ventures nigh. The way to my parlor is on a public street, but the threshold never more is pressed by human feet. A stock of goods is kept within the building where I dwell, the merchant sits behind his desk to keep things guarded well. I spin my web across the room and o'er the dusty wares. I rest in perfect safety undisturbed by anxious customers; for no single customer comes in his store and buys—the reason is he never thought it paid to advertise.—Bird Star.

just keep a digging; your hands will get mighty sore and you will get the bark knocked off your shins, but if you will just keep a pushing you will reach the top of the grade after a while, and when you do, there's lots of soft jobs up there. A short time ago we stepped into an office to shake hands with an old acquaintance; this man stands at the head of a great corporation and men come and go at his bidding. He didn't look like a man that had ever done manual labor—but he did—it was only a few years ago that we made his acquaintance on a railroad dump; he shoveled dirt while we drove a scraper team.—Albany News.

When Uncle Sam has finished all the ships now building for him his navy will need for a manning of all its vessels 2,087 officers and 62,368 men. This is more than twice as many as the law now provides for.

A remedy for the striped bug that infects melon and cucumber vines consists in sprinkling sulphur powder over the vines, and around the roots. The bugs will trouble them no more.

It takes a woman a long time to decide upon how her best frock should be designed and ornamented.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, FEB. 10, 1905.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., Post Office as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Brigham Young's sixth wife died a few days ago.

During five days fighting recently the Russians lost 18,000 men.

Last week the thermometer registered at 24 degrees below zero in Dahlonega, O.

Five persons were poisoned in Chicago last week by eating canned tomatoes, one of which died.

There are already three editors out for governor of Georgia. If they don't mind they will make "pie" out of it yet.

Hall county has 82 inmates in her pauper's home which cost for the year 1904, $2,083.99. A little over $65 per annum.

Major Woodward, of Atlanta, allowed the coal wagons to run last Sunday on account of so many people suffering from cold.

Down in the dry town of Griffin last week, 25 cases of liquor were seized by the city and county officers and several arrests made.

Hon. F. F. Julian, of Gwinnett county, has been appointed by the governor judge of the city court of Buford. Mr. Julian was the only applicant.

On the 2nd inst. the thermometer registered at 53 degrees below zero at Glendale, Montana, and the whole country shivered under the icy grip of the blizzard.

Some of the Chicago people have been able to see a spot in the sun. The diameter of the spot they claim is 80,000 miles, one of the largest spots ever observed.

Recently, while a revenue officer was chasing a moonshiner, about 50 miles from Macon, the officer fell and broke his arm, crying for help. The moonshiner stopped suddenly and rendered the crippled man assistance.

On account of several well developed cases of smallpox in Dooly county and the quarantine raised against the jail by the city council of Vienna, Gov. Terrell granted Spier Sims, the negro who was to have made a trip over the "hemp town" road on the 8th, a respite until March the 10th. He will likely make a successful trip at that time.

The state board of education last week passed a resolution urging longer terms of schools where possible. At the last session of the legislature the appropriations to public schools were increased from $800,000 to 1,000,000, besides the increase in several other sources of school money, making the apportionment of school money about 8½ per cent greater this year than last.

With a view to securing copies of all the remaining muster rolls of Georgia troops who served in the confederate army, which rolls are now in the archives of the United States war department at Washington, General Clement A. Evans, chairman of the Georgia roster commission, last Friday wrote a letter to General F. C. Ainsworth, military secretary in charge of the war records office, asking permission to have these records copied at the expense of the state.

There will probably be introduced at the next session of the legislature, says the Cobb County Courier, a bill to establish a board of assessors for each county whose business it will be to see that everyone gives in for taxation all his property and at its proper worth. We do not see why the honest taxpayer should be opposed to this, unless it be on the one ground of expense. There is no doubt but that much property is given in too low, and steps should be taken to remedy this evil.

The last grand jury of Hall county returned 50 true bills and 80 no bills.

There has been a great falling off in the sale of fertilizers. Statistics show that there are thirteen thousand tons less disposed of than at this time last year.

One of the professors, who was trying to teach the young ideals how to shoot, at the negro college at Thunderbolt the other day, was turned upon by the pupil and killed with a brick.

"Tump" Rider, a brother of Lafayette Rider, of Lumpkin county, has been appointed chief of police of Duluth. "Tump" is strong and fearless and he will look after evil doers down that way in the proper manner.

Over at Blue Ridge, Ga., a few days ago, two of Mrs. James Lively's children were bound out by the ordinary, on account of the woman strolling about and the children having to sleep in barns. All such hard-hearted women should be sent to the chain gang or penitentiary.

The sleet of this week did great damage in Atlanta. Trolleys were out of business, schools closed, telegraph and telephone wires were broken, trees twisted, trains and mail delayed and business badly crippled. One thousand phones got out of order. For the first time in many years the city was in darkness.

From the teachers examination held recently Prof. Wilber Colvin has been granted by the State School Commissioner a permanent state teacher's license, good any place in Georgia during the life of the holder. And also the Commissioner highly complimented Prof. Colvin on the excellence of his paper.—Clarksville Advertiser.

Ed. Coleman, who is confined in Gwinnett county jail for horse stealing, seems to be a bad one. He rears and curses all the time at the top of his voice. He tried to fire the jail the other day, and after being shackled and chained and locked up in an iron cell, succeeded in breaking the shackles. A special term of court may be called in order to get rid of him.

Mr. W. E. Crockett has been selected from Georgia to be one of the mounted honor guard to President Roosevelt on inauguration day. There will be about thirty of these, and the selection of Mr. Crockett is quite a compliment to Georgia. He was one of the Rough Riders under President Roosevelt during the Spanish-American war.—Marietta Journal.

J. M. Davis, Sheriff.

DAHLONEGA CITY PROPERTY FOR SALE.

I have some very desirable city property for sale, to-wit: One 4-room house, and a 2-room house, or out-buildings on Park street. A nice residence. Also 1 6-room brick house and out-buildings and seven acres of land on Chestnut street. Easy terms. Apply to J. E. TATE, Dahlonega, Ga.

Gov. Terrell offered $50 reward for a horse thief last week because, he said, if he was caught and sent to the penitentiary his labor would net the state a hundred or more dollars a year.

Wild excitement prevails in the city of Gainesville, Ga., on account of both men and women being unsafe from some person or persons shooting people through the windows while they are at rest from their labors of the previous day. Both a lady and gentleman were shot there last week, and even a horse was killed, causing everybody to go armed and the appointment of a strong force of extra police. No one seems to be safe there at night unless they sleep up stairs and not then unless they keep away from the windows. On the night of the 2nd, after Miss Taylor, a teacher in the Dahlonega college, had retired, upon hearing some one knock on the window sill, she went and pulled the curtain slightly to one side and enquired what was wanting. A pistol was fired on the outside and the lady was shot through one side of the neck. An effort was made to track the assassin up with blood hounds but the dogs were too young. On the following night James Harmon, a prominent citizen, was needlessly attacked. He too had gone to bed and when he rose up to see what was meant by a noise at his window, was shot through the breast. The wound is not considered serious but is very painful. The same night some one stuck a pistol through a crack and killed a horse belonging to Ratliff Palmer.

The lower mail line that leaves Gainesville at 11 o'clock reaches Dahlonega about as early as the other that leaves there three and a half hours earlier.

The trees down in the Methodist church lot in Dahlonega are twisted about and broken by the ice like a cyclone had struck them. And it is the same way all over town.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, fevers. Colds attack the lungs and convulsions are liable to attack the system. It is safe to say that if the liver was always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown. Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing these sicknesses because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug but a safe and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work properly, the body is liable to many diseases. The liver and kidneys along with the bowels from the bowels get stuck in the blood and virulent contagion results.

This treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively foreclose the inroads of Bright's disease, which disease can in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

AN ORDINANCE.

Amendment to the Labor Ordinance Section 12 of the City of Dahlonega. In this ordinance and the same is now ordained by the Council of the City of Dahlonega that Section 12 of the Ordinances of the City of Dahlonega, and the same is hereby amended by adding to the end of the section 12, the word "as far as possible" and the word "as far as possible" so that said Section when amended shall read as follows, to-wit:

Any person or persons, corporation, company or firm, who sell or keep for sale, as a business, or within the corporate limits of the city, spirituous, or intoxicating, or malt liquors or bitters, or liquors of any kind or character, or any other commodity and sell or keep for sale, to-wit: or bring the same away, or under any other device or disguise whatever, which, if drunk to excess will produce intoxication, shall upon conviction be fined or imprisoned by a court of record, as prescribed by Section 162 of the Code prescribing the general penalty under the Charter of this City. February 6th, 1905.

Approved, R. H. BAKER, Mayor.

Local News.

R. T. Lilly, who has been clerk for J. F. Moore & Co., has moved off.

By reference to another column you will find that J. E. Tate has some valuable property to sell in Dahlonega.

The present stewards of the Dahlonega Methodist church are J. W. Boyd, R. C. Meaders and J. M. Brooksher.

Hot drinks, Coca Cola, fresh parched peanuts, etc., etc., kept by Garland Strickland in the J. F. Moore building.

G. W. Grizzel, who was recently elected U. S. deputy marshal, did not get to leave last week as was expected by him.

The snow and sleet last Sunday prevented many people from going to church here, which is a very rare thing in this section.

We have to hear of rural mail routes being established and post-offices abolished where the postmaster is too stingy to take his home paper and reads his neighbors.

The time fixed for the pension agent to pay the pension money over to Lumpkin county is next Wednesday. Ex-Ordinary Huff will visit Atlanta then and he is expected to pay it out next week.

Not long ago J. E. Tate having room for a few more boarders, put a little ad in THE NUGGET, and in a short time the house was crowded so that he had to have the ad taken out. So you see that it pays to advertise in this paper.

Tom Tate is not likely to go to Julia, Ga., now. He will start to Dallas, Texas, on the 21st inst. for the purpose of looking out a place to locate, to be gone about thirty days. Then if he succeeds in getting one that suits him he will move at once.

Our new list of subscribers for January goes to the following post-offices: Stay, Auraria, Walnut, Wier, Gainesville, Half Way, Willow, Canton, Atlanta, Pendergrass, Cross Roads, Dawsonville, in Georgia, and Norsville, Pa., Russellville, Ark., Henderson, Tex., Cow Penn, Ala., Knoxville, Tenn., Bessemer, Ala., Dallas, Texas.

The other night some one shot and killed one of merchant Frank Jones fine bird dogs. We understand that Mr. Jones was a few days before offered $50 for it and another. Owners should hereafter claim their valuable dogs, and let the worthless ones run at large so they can be killed. There are entirely too many of this kind in Dahlonega.

Dr. Glenn spent a few days in Athens last week. The object of his visit was to attend an important meeting of the University of Georgia Council, made up of representatives of the University of the state and various schools and colleges of Georgia. The meeting was productive of good work, and several things will be done this year that will be of benefit to all the institutions represented.

In Lumpkin county there are various lots of land returned for taxes by half a dozen persons, while there are over two hundred lots returned by no one. Tax Collector Walden is going to have these wild lands sold in a short time. They will be advertised in THE NUGGET. If you are not already taking it, subscribe at once so you can keep posted on this real estate. You might miss a bargain by not doing so.

The other day two little students desiring to make a short trip off decided that they would try to get on the sick list. So one stood in sight till the other called on Dr. Whelchel, who was to give his partner the sign so he could go and try if he (the first boy) succeeded, but the Doctor was gone, and both had to go to college very much disappointed. If this is their game, the boys had just as well go home now. It would be better for both parents and college.

J. T. Miller, of Auraria, is now in the west where he expects to spend a short time on business.

During the snow the other day Jeff Findley fell and hurt one of his arms so bad that he can neither dance or drill.

Mr. and Mrs. Glyde Loveless have returned from Blanton, Ala., after an absence of about six months.

Prof. Paul Abbott, one among the best common school teachers in Northeast Georgia, was up on a visit to Dahlonega last Saturday.

The cadet band stood out on the snow and played "Good Old Summertime." It was a little out of season but still all in hearing could it.

We saw a certain woman in Dahlonega have a kind of a crazy spell Sunday, but maybe she will recover without having to be sent off.

Last Monday the public roads were so badly obstructed by limbs of trees covered with ice that the Ellijay and Gaddistown mails failed to arrive here. Same way yesterday.

Miss Dossie Black, of Dawson county, was up last Saturday and Sunday on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. H. Jones, who was accompanied by Miss Jay.

G. D. Bruce has purchased the stock of merchandise of C. W. Satterfield. Mr. Satterfield will likely locate elsewhere when he finds a place to suit him.

If we have much more disagreeable weather like that of two or three weeks past, the name of the Sunny south will either have to be changed or left off entirely.

It seems that the Briar Patch contains many rabbits as well as much gold. Parties living down there killed 68 of the cotton-tails Saturday, three persons killing 14 each.

The retail price of meal in Dahlonega seemed to vary considerably last week—selling at from 70 cents to $1.00 per bushel. The man who had the money got it at 70 cents and some of those without the cash had to give $1.00.

Messrs. James C. Manning and L. L. Manning, of Plainfield, N. J., and S. L. Quimby, of Marlborough, N. J., have been here this week looking after some interests they had in the D. S. Quimby property in this county.

Two cadets, Dial and Shahan, had a fight last Sunday in the council chamber while a big crowd was present waiting for the mail. They got to teasing each other caused it. Dial was fined $2 and cost, and Shahan was discharged, which was discharged,

G. H. McGuire and W. W. Crismon went out Saturday and brought in eight rabbits, but "Long" John Anderson beat them both. He killed eleven. Mr. Anderson is a singing master and it may be that he charmed them in some way.

W. J. Loveless returned from Temple, Ga., last week, where he has been sinking a shaft for a company. He is now gone down to the Harris Branch Mine in Dawson county, to do some prospecting for the company with a view of erecting a stamp mill at an early day.

The paupers' coffins in Lumpkin county have been costing her tax payers from $10 to $15 a piece, a great deal more than the commissioners of Hall county pay for theirs. They have made a contract with a firm of undertakers there to furnish coffins for the paupers of that county, big and little, at $8.00. A right decent coffin too. Being nicely varnished, without glass, with six thumb screws and six thumb-plates, and four handles, inside bedded with excelsior and lined with cloth, delivered at the door of the firm. A big reduction could be made in Lumpkin county in the burying of paupers and we feel confident Judge Evans will do it. The grand jury of this county recommended it to be done some time ago.

It is believed that Mrs. New, May's here is taking the pneumonia fever.

When wanting special orders for clothing Anderson & Jones will take pleasure in having them filled for you.

Anderson & Jones have a few ladies hats left over, which they are closing out at and below cost in order to make room for their spring stock.

G. D. Bruce has opened out his store at the C. W. Satterfield old stand assisted by W. F. Worley. Both are clever men who will be sure to treat you right.

We are in favor of all deserving persons drawing a pension, but are against those not entitled to the money fixing up any kind of a scheme to defraud either state or United States.

Postmasters are requested to inform us at once when persons taking this paper move away. Don't either keep or read the paper or give it to their relatives unless requested to do so.

J. F. Moore & Co. propose to sell you goods at Gainesville prices with freight added, provided you take them the cash and buy in quantities like you do in Gainesville, saving such customers the loss of a two or three days trip.

They have about spotted the person who stole Marion Thomas corn out in the country a short time ago. A glove left where they shucked the corn told the tale. There is no excuse for persons able to wear gloves to steal corn,

Mr. Marshal Smith, of Bessemer, Ala., was up on a visit to relatives in this county last week. He was accompanied by John Hardy, of the same place. There is something attracting his attention in these parts and he is liable to come one more time at least.

On Saturday several ladies here formed a club and remained on the public square all the afternoon initiating a number of prominent married men in the mysteries of the order by putting snow down their necks to show what tender hands can do. The next day some of these ladies got sick enough to call in a physician.

We hardly know which is the best to increase the attendance at a Sunday school, a snow or a Christmas tree. Last Sunday it was decided to have no Sabbath school on account of the snow, yet bright and early quite a number of children were out at the church standing in the snow waiting for the bell to ring—a portion of them always late before.

The communication concerning the much card playing at a certain place in Dahlonega is not published for the reason that the writers real name did not accompany the letter. If the card playing is carried on Sundays and at late hours in the night time and the parties engaged in the same can be heard cursing by persons passing out on the streets and do sometimes fire their pistols when breaking up, the marshal is the proper one to complain to.

Before all the snow of the previous week had entirely melted another fell last Friday to a depth of about three inches. It remained cloudy and calm all the next day. That night and the following day it sleeted until in the afternoon filling up all the tracks in the snow nice and level. Then it rained and froze, giving everything a nice, finishing touch. The limbs of the trees in many places touched the ground, presenting a beautiful appearance, which was enjoyed by all except those out of wood and meat. This being the condition among several poor families, and even some of the mounted men got out of wood. After a portion of two days it sleeted again. Then it rained and froze, causing trees, telephone and electric wires to break down all over the place. Such a spell of weather we never saw here before. There was no college or school exercises yesterday. We are getting anxious to see the ground again.

The Wahoo post-office has been moved over to M. H. Gilstraps in Hall county.

Prof. Calloway was unwell and the weather too bad Wednesday for any school.

The Superior court calendar for the north Georgia circuit will be found on the fourth page.

Mr. Ricketts, father of Wm. and Joseph Ricketts, fell in Atlanta this week and broke one of his shoulders.

Judge Brittain having a proposition for his city property, a patent sale he didn't auction it off last Tuesday.

T. S. Littlefield has been quite sick for several days. He first had the grip, got about well and then took a back set.

Mr. F. W. Bainbridge went this week to meet his wife in Atlanta, and carry her farther south to see if she won't improve.

Quite a number of our citizens are recovering from the grip, while others are just taking it. Several students have it.

The weather has been so bad that but few of our country friends have been able to get to town, causing the merchants to miss their presence.

Some of the wood haulers wanted 25 cents extra for a load during the snow, and those needing it had to either pay the price, go to bed or freeze.

Most all the land advertised for upon payment of taxes was claimed by other parties last Tuesday, who showed that the taxes on the same had been paid and but little of it changed hands.

The cattle quarantine is now on and none of our friends across the mountain will be able to bring us any more produce till fall unless they own mules or horses.

The students are speaking of getting out a twelve page paper. Several efforts have been made to run a paper heretofore but it fell through every time after a few months. Maybe they will do better this time if they get it started.

Our office was visited last Tuesday by L. L. Manning, James C. Manning, of Plainfield, N. J., and S. L. Quimby, of Marlborough, N. Y. All three of the gentlemen subscribed for THE NUGGET in order to keep up with the mining news of this section.

The council has been requested to pass an ordinance prohibiting boys from loafing on the streets at night under the age of 16, which will receive attention at once. Some parents can control their boys, but others can't, why this law is asked for.

Deputy Collector Richardson and Marshal Grizzel went up into White county and made a successful haul. They found E. A. Gibson working in an illicit distillery. Eli Allen ran away from it, and Berry Ferguson, a lad, was also on hand but it was proved that he only came to bring dinner for the operator. All were discharged except Gibson.

Judge Evans has adopted a new rule in the payment of paupers receiving aid from the county. There is no money in the treasury now and hereafter such paupers are requested to either come or send an order for the amount due them so we can give them an order on the county treasurer, enabling the Judge to keep up with it better than by the old plan.

The Quimby property, sold here last Tuesday at administrators sale, was purchased by Col. O. J. Lilly, for J. C. Sculley, of New York, for the sum of $750. There is about two hundred and 45 acres of this land, including what is known as the "Dry Hollow" lot, which has yielded large quantities of gold, and the whole is considered to be very valuable gold mining property. Some parties are still living in this county who panned out from two to four hundred pennyweights of gold to the pan on the "Dry Hollow." The gentlemen has certainly secured a good bargain.

City Council Meeting.

New Road Commissioners.

Last Monday Judge Evans appointed the following road commissioners for Lumpkin county to serve for 1905, to wit:

Auraria—A. M. Martin, W. B. Logriss, R. M. Wood.

Crumby—A. W. Anderson, James Grindie, G. B. Beasley, Cane Creek—James Lance, Frank Wimpy, Dock Marlow.

Chestaford—W. B. Swain, A. J. Dockery, M. L. Seabolt.

Davis—Newton Davis, Jr., A. W. Clements, Wash Rider.

Dahlonega—John E. Anderson, Charlie Fitts, J. H. Jenkins, Frog Town—T. E. Allen, J. S. Shoffett, John B. Grindie.

Hightower—J. L. Herlan, G. C. Rider, E. D. Moose.

Jones Creek—Jack Moss, Joseph Rider, Jas. H. Grizzel.

Martin's Ford—T. J. Bowers, Bowers, G. W. Byers, D. L. Early.

Mill Creek—D. N. Moto, W. A. Barrett, W. E. Patterson.

Nublewill—Henry Seabolt, Zern Mincey, Bud Etres.

Porter Springs—N. J. Nix, Bud Corn, Wm. Anderson.

Shoal Creek—J. N. Freeland, Allen M. Stringer, Frank Bramlett.

Wahoo—F. B. Rives, Y. G. Abner, ergemie, James Gilstrap.

Yaholah—E. J. Walden, Wiley Lee, Chas. Jarrard.

What J. B. Duckett Says About the West.

RUSSELLVILLE, ARK., February, 3, 1905.

ED. NUGGET:

As I promised to write you for the benefit of your readers I will endeavor to do so. I am not feeling very good at this time but I will try and say something that will do some of my old friends good to read it. I will give those that intend coming west to find flutter trees and poplars of honey to understand that they will have to go farther than I have, for I have not found them yet, but I have found some powerful good land, but what does that spell when a white man cannot live on it six months? If he did there would be no use in burrying him, for there would not be one drop of blood in his veins. The musquitos and buffalo knats would have it and leave him as dry as a hide.

The land here is the best that I have seen in my travels. I came through Chattanooga, Tenn., in a wagon and sure had time to look at the country. I have often thought since making this trip that there was not so much difference in the country as there is in the man, for where that good land is there is almost certain to be some other drawback that will over balance the scale. So I don't think that there is any place under the sun that can beat old Georgia after all, for I have never seen anything in my life that pleased me better than a good drink of water, and you can get it in old Georgia, but I would like to see you do anything similar at any of the good places before mentioned. I have met several parties from Oklahoma Territory. They say it is a good country, but can't stay there, for the water is alkali. I have tried some of it and you can't make coffee out of it. Do you think you could relish it?

Enough on that line. I will give you some of the customs and habits of this part in regard to marrying, or this is my views of the matter. It is now about the time they all begin to marry, so they can have some help in hoeing and picking cotton. Then men get the money for their cotton, go right then and apply for a divorce, secure it and are ready to marry the next spring. You will think that I am right when I tell you that there were 27 cases in court Russellville and about as many in every other county that I have heard from. If you can beat this come in. So I will close at present and write again if this doesn't find its way into the waste basket.

J. B. DUCKETT.

Both the icy and laprags have possession of Dahlonega now.

LETTER ON FERTILIZERS

Description of Various Nitrogenous Materials Used.

PACKING HOUSE PRODUCES, ETC.

State Chemist John S. McCandless
Interestingly and Instructively Upon
This Important and Much Discussed Question:

Letter No. 6.

As you and others have written me to know what is the value of the different materials used in the manufacture of commercial fertilizers, I will give you at this point a fair and complete account of the substances principally used. First, we will consider in the order of their value in dollars and cents, and their agricultural importance, the following: Cottonseed-meal, or those which yield nitrogen to the plant. Such substances are also known as ammoniates, because under certain conditions the nitrogen which they contain can be converted into ammonia. Now nitrogen and ammonium are not the same thing by any means, but still they are closely related, they are both gases. Nitrogen, as I have described to you before in another place, is a colorless gas, lighter than air, and non-combustible, five-fifths of the atmosphere which envelops the earth. Ammonia is also a gas and is colorless, but it has a pungent odor, the same which you have noticed in spirits of hartshorn or spirits of ammonia brought from the drug store. It also has a caustic burning taste, and is easily dissolved in water, which nitrogen is not.

Ammonia is made by causing nitrogen to combine with hydrogen. Fourteen pounds of nitrogen combine with three pounds of hydrogen to make seventeen pounds of ammonia, so that one pound of ammonia contains 87 per cent of nitrogen. Two-thirds per cent of phosphoric acid, and eight and one-half per cent of available phosphoric acid. The regular bone meal is cooked under pressure for a few hours in the tanks; this removes fat and also causes some loss of nitrogen, making the product grind easier and finer. This grade of bone meal contains about three per cent nitrogen, twenty-seven and one-half per cent total phosphoric acid, twelve and one-half per cent available phosphoric acid. Steamed bone meal is the product of the glue works, and is made by grinding the bone left after boiling all the fat and glue out of them that can be obtained. This process reduces the percentage of nitrogen, so that steamed bone meal will hardly average more than two per cent of nitrogen, but it has about the same amount of phosphoric acid as the ordinary bone meal.

Horn and Hoof Meal. Misconceptions about.

Horn and hoof meal is another product of the slaughter house. Impacted horns and dark-colored hoofs are first thoroughly steamed, then dried and ground into meal. The better quality of horns and hoofs command very high prices, even as $200 a ton, for other purposes, in the manufacture of horn buttons, etc. The quality of this material, however, on the market is limited. There was formerly a great prejudice against it, and it used to be considered fraudulent to use it in fertilizers. Even in standard works on agricultural chemistry of quite recent date the material is spoken of as being only very slowly available as plant-food. This, however, has in the past two or three years been shown to be an error, and that it is not necessary to use those best informed as a rich and highly available source of nitrogen.

In the same way a dark or black color is no indication of value in the fertilizer. In point of fact, the highest grade fertilizer which could possibly be compounded by the art of man would be snow white in color. The materials used in compounding a fertilizer would be nitrate of ammonia, phosphate of potash, and those salts when chemically pure are snow white salts. To return now to our description of the various nitrogenous materials. Cottonseed-meal, with which you are fully familiar, stands first in importance in Southern agriculture.

An average meal of good quality will contain six and six-tenths per cent of nitrogen, which, if converted into ammonia, would be equal to eight per cent.

It also contains an average of 2.7 per cent of phosphoric acid and 1.3 per cent potash. It is a very valuable fertilizer, and constitutes the nitrogen base of the greater portion of commercial fertilizers manufactured in the South.

Next to cottonseed-meal the material used most largely in the manufacture of commercial fertilizers are the

"Packing House Products."

As little is generally known of these and the manner of their production, I will give you a brief account of their manufacture.

The great packing-houses are located chiefly in Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha, where immense numbers of cattle are slaughtered, and the various parts of the body are put to some special use. Apart from the production of meat, there is, of course, there is, of course, a large quantity of blood to be utilized, but the material most interesting to us is that which is used for fertilizers; this consists of blood, of bones, and a mixture of scraps of meat, skin, bones and blood.

Dried Blood.

The material known as "dried blood" is the most valuable fertilizing product, and the richest in nitrogen. In preparing this the blood is collected in vats, where it is then cooked; this process causes the separation of the protein of the blood from much of the water; it is then put into presses where about one-half of the water is pressed out. After pressing it is still damp, and in the form of cakes; these cakes are next oven dried by passing them through a mechanical device heated by steam. The damp cakes go in at one end of the machine and dry cakes come out at the other, when they are ground to a powder and sacked ready for market. This blood meal usually contains about three per cent of nitrogen, which is the equivalent of about sixteen per cent of ammonia, but as in the case of the cottonseed-meal, there is actually no ammonia in it.

Tankage.

The next important product of the slaughter-house is what is known to the fertilizer trade as "Tankage." This is a mixture of blood, bones, waste scraps of meat, etc. This material gets its name from the fact that it is kept in huge tanks in the first stage of its preparation. It is cooked under steam pressure at a high temperature for several hours. As a result, most of the fat in the mass is melted and rises to the top of the tanks, where it is skimmed off and utilized for soap-making and other purposes. The bones and the cooked meat, etc., now lie at the bottom of the tank, and the tank after the fat has been removed is in fact a sort of soup containing nitrogenous matter in solution. The solid matter, bones etc., are removed, dried and crushed or ground in the same way as was done with the dried blood product.

Bone Meal.

There are also three kinds of bone meal produced: raw bone meal, regular bone meal, and steamed bone meal. The first is, as its name indicates, produced by the crushing and grinding of raw bones, after removing and adhering fat or meat. This meal contains about four per cent of nitrogen, twenty-four per cent of total phosphoric acid, and eight and one-half per cent of available phosphoric acid. The regular bone meal is cooked under pressure for a few hours in the tanks; this removes fat and also causes some loss of nitrogen, making the product grind easier and finer. This grade of bone meal contains about three per cent nitrogen, twenty-seven and one-half per cent total phosphoric acid, twelve and one-half per cent available phosphoric acid. Steamed bone meal is the product of the glue works, and is made by grinding the bone left after boiling all the fat and glue out of them that can be obtained. This process reduces the percentage of nitrogen, so that steamed bone meal will hardly average more than two per cent of nitrogen, but it has about the same amount of phosphoric acid as the ordinary bone meal.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

If you are nervous and tired out continually you could have no clearer warning of the approach of serious female trouble.

Do not wait until you suffer unbearable pain before you seek treatment. You need Wine of Cardui

now just as much as if the trouble

were more developed and the torture greater.

It is a powerful medicine

straining bearing down pains, menstruous, backache and headache were driving you to the unfailing relief that Wine of Cardui has given thousands of thousands of women and will bring you.

Wine of Cardui will drive out all trace of weakness and languor

menstruous spasms and backache and prevent the symptoms from quickly developing into dangerous troubles that may be hard to cure. Send $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today. If your dealer does not keep it, send the money to the Ladies' Advisory

Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co.,

Chattanooga, Tenn., and the medicine will be sent you.

WINE OF CARDUI

Boys, when you go to see your best girl, don't send up your card first. Just drop in sometime, unexpectedly, and if you find her in the kitchen with her sleeves rolled up helping her mother, she'll do get in your work just as quick as you can; talk business to her. But if you find her in the parlor playing the piano, or upstairs asleep;
go slow, talk nonsense and be careful. And if you find her out in the hammock reading a novel she will never make a good wife.

When you take a wife and see that she is just as handy at the piano stove as she is at the piano. And while we are on the subject, it might be well for the girls to keep their eyes on the boys who call. Notice the business they are engaged in and how close they stick to it. —Satisfied.

Start Right to End Right.

Judge John W. Wofford, of Kansas City, Mo., formerly lived in Cartersville, Ga., and was a conspicuous figure on the stump in the Seventh district during the memorable Felton campaigns.
He moved West and became judge of Kansas City, which he has held ever since. In a recent address to boys he gave this sensible advice, which, if needful, would revolutionize
the country. He says:

"I have been on the bench fourteen years and during that time thousands of boys have been brought before me, but not one of them was a constant attendant at church or Sunday school or obedient to his father or mother.

"I have inquired of many boys
what caused them to get into trouble, and have found that in most instances staying away from home and school, hanging around saloons and cigarette smoking are responsible.

"Start right, boys. To be any body, to accomplish anything for yourself or the community you cannot be idle. Don't drink—liquor destroys the mind and body.
Don't gamble, it leads to ruin.
Don't swear—gentlemen do not.
Don't read trashy literature. It leads to the devil. Don't hang around saloons. Good men are not made that way. Whenever you see a man hanging around a saloon the devil is after him and will get him sooner or later. Ben jamin Franklin would have never accomplished anything if he had been guilty of these practices. Be honest above all things. Poor boys make the best future citizens."

Ethics of the Publishing Business.

"Your home paper never loses interest in you." To this, possibly, you have not given a passing thought.

No matter if you like the newspaper man or if he likes you, if he is true to his profession and publishes a paper for the people he allows no personal matters or perpetual spites to interfere with his news gathering.

He may meet you as a stranger,
yet along with his best friends,
chronicles your success and sorrows wherever you may be, and those who would otherwise forget you are ever and anon reminded of your existence by an item in your home paper. Others may deceive and defraud you, but your home paper never forgets you.

Possibly you do not deserve decent treatment by the paper but you get it just the same, and if it should at any time say things to cause your fur to turn the wrong way, study a moment and see if it has not at various times said many nice things for which you fail to give it credit.—Portland Oregonian.

DAHLONEGA, FEB. 17, 1905.

Electrod at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Banks has 160 persons drawing state pensions.

J. S. McCrue, former mayor of Charlottesville, Va., was hanged last Friday.

At Americus, Ga., the farmers are hauling out about as much guano as usual.

The freeze of last week damaged the Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Georgia $100,000.

Habersham county has 251 pensioners on the state roll, who have just received $14,510.

It is said that the candidate for mayor of Reading, Penn., was recently caught stealing coal.

Two hundred miners struck at Jellico, Tenn., last week, because the company wouldn't recognize the union.

After being cut off 60 hours, Atlanta received the first telegraphic news by wire at noon last Friday.

In less than six days last week 2,000,000 bushels of grain were purchased in Minneapolis and shipped to Japan.

Farmer J. D. Shackelford, near Hogansville, Ga., hanged himself the other day. Thus ends the cotton of one man.

Felix Hill, who has had the smallpox in Union county, is recovering. He contracted the disease in Cherokee county, N. C.

It has developed that Johann Hosch, in Chicago, has thirty-four wives. Poor fellow! One is more than some men can endure.

A St. Louis swindler has caused the postmaster general to devise a new money order blank. The party forged $5,500 worth of orders.

Only nineteen grand jurors served at the Superior court of Jackson county last week. The others couldn't get there on account of the severe weather.

The governor has offered a reward of $100 for the apprehension and delivery to the sheriff of Union of the unknown person who recently burned Young Cave school house in that county.

Blue Ridge had another fire a few nights ago. It burned all the buildings between the McKinney Hotel and Crawford's store. The fire originated in McKinney's stable starting from a cigarette.

At Reading, Pa., Mrs. Kate Edwards has saved a negro's neck by declaring that her council advised her to implicate the negro in order to save her own life. The negro will go free and the woman will hang.

One of Alabama's negroes claims to have done a great deal for his church without giving money. He has invented an alarm clock to be fastened onto the collection basket to wake the people up while it is being passed around, says an ex-change.

Secretary Shaw wants alarms put on the treasury vaults. We trust that he will be able to get some on that will alarm congress about the time that it starts to pass private pension bills at the rate of four a minute. —Montgomery Advertiser.

Col. G. S. Kyte left Sunday for Atlanta where he had been summoned to appear as a witness in the federal court against a Mr. Jackson of Union county, who came over into White about a year ago and threatened widow Ingram to such an extent that she gave him $300 of her pension and the United States made a case against him, it being a violation of the United States laws to get a pensioner's money in any such way. —Cleveland Courier.

Crossed wires in Chicago caused a $600,000 fire last week.

The Japs and Russians are doing some hard fighting again.

Atlanta has been in a tangled condition for two or three weeks.

Congress will adjourn in a few weeks, leaving a lot of unfinished business.

Buford wants a new county and call it Hill, and Winder wants one and call it Georgia.

Postmaster H. C. Herrington at Wiggins, Ga., blew off his head with a gun the other day.

The freeze of last week did much damage to the turpentine fields of lower Georgia and parts of Florida.

Two hundred and fifty million dollars' worth of consumed property in the national ash heap for 1904 is another "pretty good record for carelessness for our 70,000,000 population." —Insurance Press.

In Warrenton, O., the other day, Mrs. Martha Ferguson died in the room in which she was born just eighty-two years before. She had never lived in any other house, and during her long life had never been much out of sight of the smoke of her home chimneys.

During the late fire in New York all the occupants of the house escaped in safety with the exception of a little girl, who was cut off on one of the upper floors by a rush of the flames. Her cries for help brought a policeman who dashed into the burning building and carried her down the stars through the smoke and flames. Both the officer and the child were slightly burned but their injuries were not at all serious.

The record Atlanta is so prosperous and has ever been so, is that her papers keep her so well advertised. They are able to do this because her citizens are willing to foot the bills. They do this by patronizing their columns with advertising. Nothing builds a town that has good qualities like publicity; nothing can give a town publicity so well as its own newspapers, truthfully remarks the Cobb County Courier.

In some places in the state of New York it seems to be dangerous for preachers to denounce drunkenness and gambling. Rev. L. D. Cook has been doing this and the other night while he was holding services, some one on the outside threw a rock in the church, hitting an old woman. Meeting broke up and in a short time the preacher was knocked down and found insensible. Before his house was burned and his horse killed. So there are many worse places than Georgia.

Geo. B. Sickels & Co. of Tate, Ga., manufacturers and dealers in Georgia and Italian marble, were awarded the contract for the construction of the exterior and interior of the Illinois State Memorial which will be erected at Vicksburg, Miss. It is being erected by the State of Illinois in memory of its soldiers who took part in the siege of that city. The memorial will be a circular temple of the Roman Doric architecture, fifty feet wide at base and fifty feet high. The exterior and interior will be finished in white and gray Georgia marble respectively. The cost of this structure will be $250,000. —Cherokee Advance.

Comptroller-General Wright a few days ago made out a statement showing the amount due the state by the Louisville and Nashville as taxes on $1,500,000 worth of stock of the Western Railway of Alabama, issued to the Georgia Railroad & Banking Company. The statement shows the amount due for each year, running from 1893 to 1904, inclusive, and the aggregate for the twenty-two years. In reaching a conclusion as to the amounts due, the comptroller figured on the value of the stock for each year separately, as shown by the dividends declared and the tax rate for each year. He makes the total $125,974.

The lumber has gotten to be a very important industry in Union county. Large mills are now sawing up the fine timber in that county into lumber, which is being hauled to the railroad and shipped hundreds of miles away. Another big mill is being put up in about six miles of Goldsboro. To reach the railroad from this point the teamsters will have to haul the lumber over twenty miles, but it pays them to do it, and brings much money into the county.

On Tuesday night Miss Ethel Ashford, of Gainesville, was shot at twice in her room by an assassin.

Atlanta was damaged $50,000 by the ice last week.

Since Atlanta has won the state fair Macon speaks of holding an independent fair.

Last week two poor old penniless women in Atlanta burned their bed in order to keep warm.

The commissioner of agriculture thinks that the oat crop has been killed by the recent freeze.

The city council of Gainesville, recently voted to double tax the Brenau college at that place. This is something new.

Oklahoma and New Mexico have been admitted into the United States and two more stars will be fixed in America's flag.

The colored militia of Georgia are of no benefit to the state whatever, and we hope that they will soon be a thing of the past.

D. M. Roberts, an aged farmer of Jackson county, died suddenly by the side of his wife while in a cab in Atlanta one day last week.

Atlanta was awarded the next state fair. She raised $44,500, while Macon only got up $18,000. Atlanta has such a progressive city that she is hard to down in anything.

J. B. Dunegan, a warm supporter of J. M. Ashley for congress in the last election, has been appointed postmaster at Jefferson, Ga. Mr. Ashley of course, endorsed him.

Rev. D. M. Edwards, who used to be in Dahlonega, wrote a very interesting letter to the Clarksville Advertiser last week, from Visalia, California. It seems that Mr. Edwards is still in bad health. During the summer he goes to the hills and sleeps out of doors.

The records show that the famous cold Saturday was on the 8th day of February, 1835, just 70 years from the severe sleet of last week. On the day in 1835, the cold came on suddenly in the morning with the wind from the north, and by night the thermometer went down to 15 degrees below zero.

The Japanese government has purchased 7,000 horses of the broncho type in Wyoming, and they are to be shipped as quickly as possible across the Pacific for use in the spring campaign in Manchuria. The Western half of this country seems to be profiting to a considerable extent by the conflict between the Russians and Japanese.

Carnegie proposes to give Gainesville a library costing $25,000, provided the city furnishes the lot upon which to erect it, and the city council must enter into a contract, obligating itself to pay annually ten per cent of the amount ($25,000) to operate it, the hire of a librarian, heating, lighting, etc. Gainesville may do it but we doubt it. It is claimed that Mr. Ashley was instrumental in having the offer made.

The last snow and sleet was worse in Atlanta than the previous one, tying up everything nearly, doing much damage. 150 expert electricians from Chicago and other places had to be called into service. The electric and telephone companies suffered a considerable loss. All the trolleys ceased to move for several days. There was great suffering among the poor of that city. Many churches were damaged by the heavy sleet.

The weather moderated a little last week after the second freeze and the mills were able to run two or three days, but the third blizzard came Monday night, freezing up all the mills and out-door work again.

The weather is moderating some at this writing but there is no water in the canals. It may not remain so but a few hours, yet it may be so for several days.

Local News.

We have had two days sunshine.

For weeks wood has been about as ready a sale for cash as blockade liquor ever was in Dahlonega.

Some of our merchants got out of groceries during the bad weather. The roads were so bad that two sisters could not haul but little at a time, and therefore, made but few trips.

Marvin Bryant, of Lumpkin county, was bound over here for illicit distilling last Wednesday. It seems that he was interested in both the stills that were found in operation under the houses of Joe Ash and John Wallen.

Many citizens got out of wood in Dahlonega this week, the weather being so bad and the roads almost impossible. When a teamster did come in with a load to supply one of his customers other people having none would take after it like boys do when a bear comes to town.

Hix predicted snow last Sunday. It failed to snow, but we had a very cold rain, freezing at the start. Monday the clouds changed from the east to the southwest and a blizzard was soon on us. It snowed enough to cover the ground again and was very disagreeable. Next morning the thermometer stood at one degree above zero.

Our farmers have not been able to do anything yet towards making another crop on account of the ground being too wet from either snow, rain or sleet. It has always been said that a good crop is produced after much snow. If this be the case they will be unable to crib their corn next fall and will have to use it for fuel, like it is done in the far west some times.

In a few days Dr. Glenn, president of the N. G. A. College, will leave for Atlanta, where he will join a party of prominent Georgia educators and start for Milwaukee, Wis., where they go to attend the annual meeting of the department of superintendence of the National Educational Association. This is one of the most important educational bodies that meets during the year, and all of the Georgia superintendents who can do so usually arrange to attend it.

During the sleety weather some of the poor people got in such a condition that they had to call on Judge Evans for help. One old negro woman, whose mind is not exactly balanced and who works every day in the sun, Sunday not excepted, when the weather will admit, did not know where to get anything and would have starved to death had people of her color not rendered assistance and afterwards reported the matter to the ordinary, who at once sent sufficient supplies to her home.

Mr. Breymann, president of the Standard Gold Mining Co., has gone back to his home in the north, to be absent for a short while only. The gentleman says when he returns he expects to sink the present shafts started down at the Singleton mine, belonging to his company, deep enough to see exactly what the property is worth as a deep mine. We trust that Mr. Breymann will be successful in his undertaking and find much gold, for he has much money invested in the mines of Lumpkin county.

Those who have not seen the trees around the Methodist church since they have been broken down by the sleet would be surprised to see what a change it has made. The broken limbs made nearly two cords of wood after being cut up. The trees are to be trimmed and shaped up yet. Many years ago these trees were set out by Dr. Stevenson, who has long since gone to his reward. They had grown large, shading the entire church and covered the whole lot and were the prettiest ones in Dahlonega. But it matters not how well they are trimmed they are too old now to ever present as pretty appearance as they did before the sleet.

We regret to state that William Vaughn has a severe case of pneumonia. He is very low as we go to press.

There has been more people in Dahlonega down with grip this winter than at any time for years, but up to the present no deaths.

A number of our citizens had laid in a supply of wood to do them they thought but soon realized differently when the sleet, rain and snow came by the wholesale.

If there is any one dissatisfied by having subscribed for this paper, all they have to do is let us know and we will discontinue it and refund their money at once.

Look over our list of advertisers and give them a call when you need anything in their line. They ask for your patronage, why not give it to them when they propose to sell their goods cheap?

Although Saturday night was very wet and the rain froze for awhile many attended the dance, remaining until a late hour. Next day there were services at both the Methodist and Baptist churches and the weather was warmer none of these parties went to church because it was "too cold and disagreeable."

Last Sunday at 11:30 o'clock, we heard some parties in a certain house in Dahlonega singing in regular campmeeting tone and strength "old rye liquor is good enough for me," to the tune of Old Time Religion. Had they been at home they would not have done this. If they had, their parents would have objected. Never mix up religious matters with your drinking, be it either rye or corn liquor you are taking.

The street committee will do but little work until the weather gets better and the days longer—nothing except what has to be done. The council has ordered that the city marshal have laborers, teams and all, put in ten hours a day, and this cannot be done for some time yet, and where street bands and those proposing to pay their dog tax in work are not willing to do this, putting in good honest work, they had just as well pay in the money now.

Had cotton remained at a good price some of the farmers of Lumpkin county, who never raised any before, thinking that it would do no good near the mountains until last fall, would have planted some this year. But if they don't plant cotton they should cultivate all the land they can in corn and other farm products. There is a great deal of idle land in this country that would pay men better to cultivate it than to work in the mines at 80 cents a day. Too many of our citizens depend on the mines for a living, and when a severe winter like the present one comes and they can't work the men begin to realize it when it is too late.

Since our article of last week in reference to the coffins being furnished the paupers of this county at more than double what Hall has to pay, undertaker McGuire, of Dahlonega, says that he is perfectly willing to enter into a contract to furnish all the pauper coffins for Lumpkin county at $5, same as Hall gets them at with freight added, laid down at his door. Then surely any poor person in Lumpkin county has friends enough to dig their grave and carry them to the cemetery. They do it in Hall and in the country here. And when a well to do person dies in Dahlonega all teams necessary are furnished free of charge and the corpse carried to one of the churches and talked over for hours, teams and drivers waiting in front. But if it is a poor person they are generally carried to the cemetery the nearest way and placed beneath the sod without any delay unless it is caused by so few people being present to cover them up, with not enough gall bearers sometimes unless a relative of the deceased renders assistance.

Sends us your job work.

Hot drinks, Coca Cola, fresh parched peanuts, etc., etc., kept by Garland Strickland in the J. F. Moore building.

At W. P. Prices you will find a full line of crackers made by the National Biscuit Co.

Prof. Palmon, a former graduate of the college and later a teacher, was here shaking hands with his many friends here.

Since the dissolution of Tate, Littlefield & Co., Mr. Littlefield has been confined to his bed, rendering them unable to divide up.

J. B. Housley has returned from McCays, Tenn.

It is a good place to make money, he says,

but there is no place that suits

Mr. Housley like old Dahlonega.

Last week one of Wash Jenkins little children fell in the fire and was so badly burned that the blood ran from the worst places on its hands.

Photographer Bruce was quite busy during the sleet taking views at various places in and around Dahlonega last week, which he now offers for sale at his store.

After the snow and sleet melted away in Dahlonega last week, it required several days trimming before the many broken limbs on the trees could be removed and the trees put in shape.

The compon school teachers will receive their pay the first week in March. The state school commissioner announced some days ago that the convict hire for the last quarter of 1904 would be sent out by last Wednesday, and we suppose Lumpkin county's part has reached here by this time.

Nice white-headed cabbage still continue occasionally to reach our town from the mountain farmers. A ten or twelve pound white-headed cabbage, nicely cooked with a big piece of meat, goes mighty well at this season of the year.

Some of the wood haulers last week who advanced the price 25 cents a load during the cold spell, got it off of other people's land without their knowledge or consent, and if one of the owners does not change his mind before court does this will not have wood money enough to pay their fines.

The young people recently had a candle drawing up in Chestatow at a certain gentleman's house and all had a nice time until one fellow got drunk and watered out the fire. It was so cold that none could stand it except those who were full of liquor and the girls all went home, ending the pleasure of the evening.

The NUGGET is not only read by hundreds of subscribers here at home, but goes to many throughout the country. Look at the list of Georgia post-offices it goes to on the first page. There are other towns and cities in different parts of the United States, and even London, where it is read. These offices will be given next week.

In renewing his subscription to THE NUGGET Wm. Belcher, under date of the 7th inst. writing from York, Nebraska, says: "I like your paper because you are fair on all questions. Snow is now about 17 inches deep. We think it is fine for winter wheat." And here where the snow has not been over three inches deep this winter we talk about bad weather.

In our notice of the road commissioners appointed by Judge Evans we meant to say that E. D. Gaddis was appointed in Hightower district instead of E. D. Moose, and in Porter Springs, Bud Cain instead of Bud Corn. We got it mixed very much like the fellow away from home writing to his wife and sweetheart, and hastily sealed in the wrong envelope, causing trouble in the camp. Did you ever get a letter like this? We did once from a friend, and though it has been some time ago, we can't help from laughing when we think of those loving words that were written.

In Hightower district last Sunday Mr. Marion McDougal was wedded to Miss Vasti Montgomery, a daughter of Mr. John Montgomery. Rev. J. W. Rider officiated.

The grip seized every one working in the postoffice here from the postmaster down to the clerk, but fortunately it took them one at a time, letting one get up before attacking another.

We are glad to state that Mr. Littlefield is recovering from his recent severe spell of sickness. His back set, caused by rising too early from an attack of the grip should be a warning to others having it.

The Dahlonega Nugget is one of the best and brightest of our exchanges. It is always brimful of news and interesting reading matter, and we congratulate B. Townsend on the excellent sheet he is getting out. "Long may it wave!"—Young Harris News.

The rain and melted snow of Sunday and Sunday night raised the water over the lower Yahoooh bridge so it couldn't be crossed the next morning. Good thing it couldn't be guess for the one doing so would have been caught in the blizzard that reached us later in the day.

The compon school teachers will receive their pay the first week in March. The state school commissioner announced some days ago that the convict hire for the last quarter of 1904 would be sent out by last Wednesday, and we suppose Lumpkin county's part has reached here by this time.

The late disagreeable weather stopped all traveling to and from Dahlonega, causing all kinds of business to be on the drag. The daily mails continued but the drivers punished much with cold. Old people say that there has not been as much sleet in any winter since 1856. The heavy wind a few weeks ago blew down much timber and the big sleets since have damaged both orchards and forests. Some times we are led to believe almost that in whirling the earth around the sunny south has been left near the north pole. It was so cold Monday evening that the houses and trees popped and cracked all night, causing some people to go out and see what it meant.

A. J. Erwin, better known as "Dock" Erwin, who left Dahlonega on January the 30th to build a stamp mill for a gentleman at Dallas, Ga., died with typhoid pneumonia in seven days after he reached the place, which is regretted by all his acquaintances in Dahlonega. His employer wrote to Capt. Woodward, which was received by him on Monday, stating that Mr. Erwin arrived there on Tuesday, the 31st of January, and went to work the following day and continued on till Saturday night. Monday Mr. Erwin failed to come in, and not appearing on Tuesday they went to see the cause of his absence and found him a very sick man, where doubtless he had been alone up to that time enduring much suffering with no one present to care for him. A physician was sent for, who stated after seeing the patient that a change would beay to take place if he lived long. Mr. Erwin doubtless realized his serious condition as he told the strangers present that he had no relatives in Dahlonega or Lumpkin county but two of his brothers lived at Birmingham, Ga. They were notified of his condition and the supposition is that they looked after his remains. The deceased came to Dahlonega near 25 years ago, has lived here ever since and if he has made an enemy we have never heard of it for he was good natured and harm no one. Being an unmarried man he lived alone and did his own cooking. Was a splendid carpenter but preferred mining, and the little holes and tunnels dug by "Dock" near Dahlonega in search of the yellow metal will cause the passers-by knowing the man to think of him for many years to come.

The Hand canal froze up on Tuesday again causing Dahlonega to be in darkness.

Tate and Clay government seeds are being received, but next season Bell seeds will come ringing through the mails.

We are glad to learn that Rev. W. H. McAfee, who was dangerously sick in Atlanta for a while, is considerably better.

Another child of Sherday Mathews, of Hightower district, died last Sunday of diphtheria, making two children he has lost in a week.

More chickens froze to death here this week. Sometimes they can roost too high for the negro but they can't get too high for the blizzard.

Polk Head, of Cane Creek district, is very sick with grip. He was unwell before and a complication of diseases makes it pretty severe on him.

G. W. Grizzel, the newly elected U. S. deputy marshal, to be located at Bowersville, Hart county, left last Tuesday to enter into the duties of his office.

We learn that Marcus Williams, who was so badly injured a few weeks ago by being run over by a wagon, has recovered so he can be brought home any time now.

The cold weather froze out Dawsonville court this week and all of our attorneys having business there are glad to know that it has been postponed until the 4th Monday in April, the week after court at Dahlonega.

NOTICE TO ROAD COMMISSIONERS. The road commissioners of Lumpkin county are requested to call the overseers attention and have all the trees in the roads caused by the sleet and wind removed at once. G. G. EVANS, Ordinary.

While in Dahlonega last Sunday Wharton Anderson of the Calhoun mine, informed us that he had been able to get in pretty regular time all through the winter. Not having any long ditches or mill to freeze up enabled him to move right along with the loss of only two shifts up to that time.

Before the blizzard some parties with a smoked glass saw the spot in the sun which looked to be about the size of a quarter of a dollar, which is said to cover a territory of 30,000 miles, by some Chicago people. It is one place we don't suppose the southern freeze has affected. Let some of our citizens take a peep and see.

No use to go to Gainesville after you granulated sugar when you can buy it in Dahlonega, right at home at the store of J. F. Moore & Co. They also propose to sell you other goods as cheap as they can be sold in Gainesville with the freight added provided you carry them the cash and buy in quantities like some of you do there.

Judges court at several law grounds in this county, had to be postponed during the inclement weather. At many places there is nothing to cover the court except a leafless tree, and a log is used for his chair. During the summer time trees and logs will answer for a court house, but snows and sleets like the ones recently visiting us are sure to freeze to the court and all persons attending.

There is a lot of money spent by the citizens of Lumpkin county in Gainesville that would be brought to Dahlonega if all those dealing in clothing would be more reasonable. Take for instance some of them who price a suit costing seven dollars, at fourteen dollars, just double, and a fellow knowing nothing about the goods is led to believe that he is getting a bargain when twenty five or fifty cents is knocked off, until he reaches another market. Such as this causes the purchaser to lose confidence in the big profit merchant and all will cause the passers-by knowing the man to think of him for many years to come.

The Justices court here last Friday was nearly an all-day session. The longest term for years.

We can furnish you with good Cambria linin finish letter heads, nicely printed, at THE NUGGET office.

J. F. Moore and Mrs. Fannie Harris closed a trade this week with Dr. Howard for his store house on the corner across the street from his residence.

George Housley went down to Atlanta the other day to help put up the telephone and telegraph lines but it got so cold that it froze him out and he returned home.

Billy Davis has returned from Ducktown. He went over there with several others to work, but were not able to do anything on account of the continuous bad weather.

Ex Ordinary John Huff left for Atlanta last Tuesday at noon, where he goes to draw the money for the pensioners of this county. He expects to be back tomorrow and will be ready to settle with the soldiers and widows on Monday.

Craig R. Arnold, of the upper Etowah mine, is now at his home for a short while in the north. There are men in charge of his mine who run the mill every day possible, but the weather has been so bad that but little headway could be made.

W. B. Martin, who resided near New Bridge, died last week and was buried at Soul's Chapel by the Odd Fellows on Friday last. The cause of his death was blood poison. He had an ulcer on one of his legs, which was cut out by the physicians and he died the following night.

Our merchants and other business men should bear in mind that a tax of $10 is imposed on all dealers in cigarettes or cigarette paper. That it is a misdemeanor to sell, give away, or to keep cigarette books about a place of business so customers can get them, unless this $10 tax is paid.

Tom Ward, of Hightower district, a farmer who raises plenty of hog and hominy to do him, and some to spare, is somewhat of a cabbage raiser too. He tells us that he still has six or seven hundred pounds that he has not sold yet, and yet some of our farmers talk of hard times. Do you know what often brings about hard times? It can be answered in one word: Laziness.

As some of our citizens and the patrons of the Dahlonega post office have signed both the applicant's petitions for the post-office, just because they couldn't say "no," when asked to sign one, although they preferred the other. Why not let these applicants get the citizens to meet and cast their ballots for their choice, and the one receiving the smallest vote withdraw from the field? This would be justice to all concerned.

John H. Moore killed two workmen last Tuesday weighing 769 pounds. The largest weighed 415 and the other 389. John is one of our most prosperous business men, and it is no trouble for him to make money. He is clever, liberal and is always ready to help the needy and distressed. If all the foreign mission people here would do likewise they would know exactly what becomes of their money, accomplish much good and be rewarded by success like Mr. Moore.

One of the applicants for the Dahlonega post-office is still in search of signers to his petition. He has two lists. One democratic and the other republican. As the negroes were not taken into the republican convention we do not know whether they are asked to sign one or not. If so we recon it is another sheet. A number of our citizens have signed both Mr. Anderson and Mr. Tate's petitions. The department will think strange of those doing that way, and their signatures will do no good for either party.

Drink Causes It All.

Listen to the strong words of Mr. Justice Hawkins, sitting as Judge at Durham: "When I come to look through the calendar, and when I see the number of crimes which have been committed under the influence of drink, I cannot help saying a word or two on that subject. Every day I live, the more I think of the matter, the more firmly do I come to the conclusion that the root of almost all crimes is drink, that tyrant which affects people of all ages and of both sexes, young, middle-aged and old, father and son, husband and wife—all in turn become its victim! It is strong drink which for the most part is the immediate and direct cause of those quarrels which terminate in serious mischief."

Influence of a Holy Life.

There is an eloquence in living goodness which will often prove persuasive. For it is an inoffensive, unobtrusive eloquence; it is the eloquence of the soft sunshine when it expands the close-shut leaves and blossoms—a rude hand would but tear and crush them; it is the eloquence of the summer heat when it basks upon the thick-ribbed ice—blows would but break it but beneath that softest, gentlest, yet most profound influence, the hard, impenetrable masses melt away.—John Caird.

Debt is a great force waster, because very few men or women can be heavily in debt without worrying or being anxious. If you are so deeply involved that it is impossible to extricate yourself without going through bankruptcy, then take your bitter medicine at once, and start again, no matter who criticises or denounces you. Pay your debt in full afterward, when you are able. Get rid of all vitality sappers. If you have taken an unfortunate step, retrace it if you can. If you have made a mistake, remedy it as far as it is in your power to do so; but when you have done your best, let the thing drop forever. Do not drag its skeleton along with you. Never allow what is dead and should be buried to keep bobbing up and draining off your life capital in weary or vain regrets.—Ex.

An enormous cattle ranch, said to be the very largest in the world, is that of Don Luis Terrazas, in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico. It comprises eight million acres and upon its vast prairies, mesas and mountains, there roam one million cattle, seven hundred thousand sheep and one hundred thousand horses. The "farmhouse" is undoubtedly the finest in the world, for upon it were spent $2,000,000 in Mexican money, and is one of the most richly finished and furnished castles in the republic. The marble with which it is embellished was brought from Italy and European workmen and artists were brought over to exert all their skill on this princely mansion.

Two men in the West were to be hanged for horse stealing. The selected place was the middle of a trestle bridge spanning a river. The rope was not securely tied on the first man to be dropped, and the knot slipped; the man fell in the river and immediately swam for the shore. As they were adjusting the rope for the second man, an Irishman, he remarked: "Will ye be sure and tie that good and tight, 'cause I can't swim."

San Francisco has the terrible fact to face that there are over 8,000 saloons within her city limits—one saloon to every 125 of her population—and, what is the worst feature, many of the saloons have grocery stores in front, and children who go for home supplies are only separated from the evils of the saloon by a swinging door, and learn all manner of weakness from their earliest youth.

We have seen some pretty girls who were both pretty and ignorant, but as a rule they were never ignorant that they were pretty.

The President of the United States has to be elected three times in succession. For instance, in the case of Theodore Roosevelt: On the 8th day of last November the people of the United States gathered at their polls and elected him President. Recently the presidential electors of the states met at their respective capitals and elected him again. On the second Wednesday in February the Senate and House of Congress will meet in the hall of the body and elect him for the third time.

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means good blood for the body, but stomach trouble arises from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly digested food causes indigestion, causing distressing symptoms, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and gives out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

The Jumbo's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia, free the stomach of all forms of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulative results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

THE JUMBO'S
BLACK-DRAUGHT

Go Home.

When tired, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show yourself at the very best, go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal, go home and practice on your wife and children first.

When you want to shine with more brilliancy than usual, go home and light the whole house. Home is the best place of all, if we would but make it so.

Reward will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform in any form in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with in any way.

Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their soothing, nourishing, strengthening and invigorating effects upon the nervous system, and not by paralyzing and weakening the nerves as would be the case if these drugs were used.

For this reason Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are universally considered the best pain remedy.

It is well known you can get severe pains in my head, heart and back, and you can't find any relief until I get a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I take one or two 12 hours at a time with such severe pains that I can't bear to have them in mind. The Anti-Pain Pills give me relief in from 10 to 15 minutes so quick that I can't bear to use Morphine any more.

I wish you would publish this so other people can get relief.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, FEB. 24, 1905.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga., P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

W. G. McNeely is at work traveling for the Atlanta Journal again.

Macon, although losing the state fair, is going to have one of her own.

The negroes of Savannah are talking of having a fair in Georgia next fall.

It is said that Chief Jernier will be in the race for mayor of Atlanta next time.

Gainesville will likely get an appropriation of $40,000 from congress for a post-office building.

It is believed that the peach crop of Georgia has been badly damaged by the cold weather.

It is estimated that 12,000 people will attend the presidents inaugural ball in Washington City.

The decision against the Beef Trust has made no difference in the price here, either raw or canned.

Fifteen out of twenty-six who stood the civil service examination for career service in Gainesville recently, passed.

The cotton planters are receiving contributions from all parts of the south, which will enable them to hold their cotton.

The colored Broad Street church in Rome, was damaged during the war by federal troops and the government has paid it $2,500.

The city of Gainesville has about decided to use moonshine of nights instead of street electric lights so as to cut down its expenses.

The ice king visited Atlanta again this week, but was not so severe as the one of the previous week, although a good deal of damage was done.

The salary of Harvie Jordan, president of the Cotton Growers Association, has been fixed at $5,000. There will be many hooks set for this job next time.

It may be that they may impeach the governor of West Virginia, as it is claimed that he gave office of secretary to Governor-elect Dawson on a deal to divide the salary.

In Jackson county, where the roads are worked by taxation, it is a big help to the poor boy and man of road age, as it is only four days work this year or pay a commutation tax of $1.50.

It is believed that the cotton held by farmers will bring $20,000,000 more now than it would a month ago. If its value still increases this way it will pay them big money to continue the hold.

Many negroes of Atlanta will sign a petition, asking the authorities not to allow the public dance hall re-opened for their race in that city. This should cause white lovers of this kind of pastime to stop and think.

The other day at Valdosta, Ga., John Flood was killed by a A. L. Frierson with an axe, who was in love with the formers wife. Frierson and Mrs. Flood have both been lodged in jail. The latter because she tried to shield the crime.

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, has called attention to the fact that while several senators have been indicted none of them are democrats. The grafters are all in the republican party, some how or other, says the Georgia Free Lance.

Miss Ashford, of Gainesville, was mistaken about some one shooting at her the other night. It was a man, who got scared at an incide falling on his house, a cold night and he fired, thinking that it was an assassin trying to kill him.

Mining News.

The McDonauds are preparing to operate their drills by steam down at the Lockhart mine which will enable them to get out the ore much faster and with more ease than by hand drilling. The ore was rich enough to pay them by the old method and the results are bound to be much better now. They are all practical miners and know exactly where to strike for each lick to count.

Work was resumed at the Sington again last Monday after a suspension since the previous Tuesday. The blizzards have only lasted a few days at a time but it takes some time to clear the canals of ice so the water can flow freely. The weather has been the severest here known for years, being a drawback to mining and all kinds of business, but we trust the worst has all past.

W. J. Hightower will commence building the tubes on the line of the Briar Patch canal just as soon as the weather settles and he can do anything. But little progress has been made by this company since the blizzard, season. Not even being able to operate its boat, but such extreme cold weather will soon be a thing of the past.

Then new life will spring up in all mining enterprises throughout the country.

While Mr. Kiser, of the lower Etowah or Josephine mine, was in Dahlonega last Saturday we had a short talk with him about the prospects of mining down his way.

The gentleman informed us that he was expecting Mr. Vansycle down from New York every day now, who has been delayed from coming earlier on account of sickness. When he arrives they expect to begin work in a business like way. $20,000 will be expended in getting the mine in good shape. A large pump will be used in forcing water on top of Logan Hill, giving sufficient force for all their placer diggings, and later they will give the veins attention in the proper manner.

Mr. Kiser has been on the property for several years, which gives him an opportunity of knowing how to operate this mine to the best advantage. We have great confidence in his ability.

After being out of water at the Hand nearly a week on account of the third blizzard within thirty days, it reached the mine on Saturday afternoon and work was resumed again Monday morning. For some time they have been trying to strip the Knight, with no expectation of clearing anything until this work is completed and the vein is milled, yet much of the topping has and is yet being run through the mill, as it is too good to throw away and too poor to pay, but after a clean up week before last of a two or three days run the result was much better than had ever been anticipated and when the ore is milled they are satisfied of receiving good paying results.

The company has in view now the construction of a five ton chlorination plant with which to work their concentrates. The present chlorination plant is much larger than is needed besides being too expensive to operate. It was asserted when this plant was built that half of it could be run when desired, with half the expense about it that would take to run the whole thing, but experience has taught the manufacturers better.

We have frequent inquiries concerning the progress of Crown Mountain Gold mine, the last one from a patron of ours residing in Barnesville, Ohio, last week. He says: "Will you kindly write me and tell me what you think the prospects are for Crown Mountain mine. They seem to be ungodly slow in developing it." Reply: The Crown Mountain mill has not been run much this year, and this nor other mine, unless it is a placer, will pay unless the mill is kept properly moving. The shaft work also suspended about three weeks ago at the suggestion of some of its directors until they meet. All work at the Crown Mountain is on a stand still now. Had a suspension not been ordered but little good could have been done any way on account of the very severe weather. This mine will never pay until it is managed differently. It has a capacity of 300 tons a day but we are told that it has never crushed one-fourth of this amount in a single day. The ore bins are too far from the mill and the material cannot be transported to it fast enough. This way of running the mill with a three inch drop keeps the hands employment and makes a noise but it wears out the machinery, accomplishes nothing, disheartens the stockholders away not knowing the facts and gives the country a black eye. By all means do away with the tramway, run the ore direct to the mill so as to keep it going regularly. Give all the stamps the proper drop, and all parties interested pull together for success. When this is done Crown Mountain will pay and not before. The directors meeting has been postponed again—time fixed now the 9th of March.

Will Go to Work on Railroad Right Away.

Hon. Geo. J. Baldwin, president of the Gainesville Midland, Mr. Bush, a capitalist from Augusta, Hon. S. C. Dunlap, manager of the Gainesville Midland, and some other parties, were here last Saturday.

Mr. Baldwin said that Athens has not quite subscribed the amount he asked in order to have the Gainesville Midland extended to Athens, but he has absolute faith that the Athens people will come across, so he has put his surveying force to work to survey the road from Athens to this place.

Most of the parties between here and Athens have either signed deeds of right of way or have signified a willingness to do so. Mr. Baldwin therefore, apprehends no trouble on account of the right of way.

As soon as the survey is completed, a force will be put to work at once, grading the road. The force will be large, and the work done at once.

Mr. Baldwin hopes to have the road completed within ten months. He hopes to have a train running from Gainesville direct to Athens by next Christmas.

After completing the line from Jefferson to Athens, where the Gainesville Midland will have all the railway connections that it can want, then no doubt Mr. Baldwin will extend the road to his valuable mineral properties in Northeast Georgia. In all probability, the road will go to Dahlonega, after which it may be extended so as to get connections with some big railway system to the West.

Jackson County Herald.

Many of the cotton growers of Georgia are signing pledges to hold their cotton for a better price.

Sidney Hanchell, who burned the town of Preston, Ga., five or six months ago, has been sent to the penitentiary for 20 years.

Hall county will get a lot of pistol taxes this year on account of every man and woman in Gainesville having a pistol, as well as many of the minors.

The March term of the U. S. court in Atlanta will begin on the second Monday in March, and will start off with the trial of about 800 cases, the most of which are for distilling, postal and penitentiary laws.

The heirs of Joseph E. Brown have filed a petition in the Ordinary's court of Fulton county, asking that Julius L. and Joseph M. Brown be removed as executors, charging them with having misused $90,025.58.

The Grand Duke Sergius was assassinated on the streets of Moscow one day last week by a bomb being thrown under his carriage as he was driving. The horses and carriage were all blown to pieces. The two men who threw the bomb were both badly wounded.

Local News.

Quite likely by court week the upper part of the court house will be lighted up by electricity, which is a good plan.

Col. J. W. Underwood, and Bro. Davidson, of the Cleveland Courier, was in Dahlonega a short while last Monday.

Now is the time for our merchants and other business men to begin to break up their ground for spring advertising.

It snowed again here last Sunday. That night and the following day it rained, causing mud and slush in abundance.

Judge Evans went out into Shoal Creek district to visit Mr. Boggus, his fathe-in-law, who is quite sick, last Saturday.

Last week the revenue officials of Dahlonega found an illicit distillery in M. Nix's field in about 200 yards of his house in White.

Next week we will begin the publication of nearly two hundred wild land lots to be sold in June for its taxes, located in Lumpkin County.

After being in darkness for three nights, caused by the blizzard freezing up the water in the canal canal, Dahlonega was made bright again by her many electric lights.

Col. Farrow writes a friend of his here that he will be up at an early day for the purpose of putting his telephone line, from Dahlonega to Porter Springs, in good shape.

During the blizzard J. T. Miller, of Aurora, was on a visit to Nebraska, where the thermometer was many degrees below zero. Mr. Sovey also spent a few days in that state.

Last Sunday just before the time arrived for the school boys to fall in line to go to church it commenced raining. They were excused and the most of them returned to their rooms.

Mr. Geo. Marlow was up on a visit from Gainesville last week, and we never saw a man gain so in flesh since he returned from Alabama. There is no healthier place on the globe than the old red hills of Georgia.

For the past year or two every farmer in this section who could get the seed, sowed peas, thinking that they would not only yield a large amount of hay, but help the land. Within the past few days we have heard parties who have tried it, say that peas injures the land, although the vines make fine hay. R. L. London says he is certain about its injury. He says he sowed peas on a few acres of land one year, and the next planted it in corn, and the same land by the side of it made the best corn. It looks very reasonable, for all the vines are taken off of the land and nothing left except the root and a little short stalk.

The road commissioners appointed for the Dahlonega district, met last Saturday and blazed out the way for business. These commissioners do not mean to be pulled up before the court for any neglect of duty, for they say they mean to discharge it by looking to the overseers and the overseers must see that the hands discharge their duty. Heretofore hands have been in the habit of excusing others from road duty. This they have no right to do. And in Crumby's district they have made it a rule to let the men off from road duty at the age of 45—five years earlier than the time fixed by law. This had better be stopped, for it is reported to Judge Kinsey he will fine the commissioners of that district enough to make up each man's five years and have some money left. Now let all such business as this stop before some of you do get into trouble. There is no excuse for this, for you all know better. Do your full duty and let us have some improvements on the roads this year.

College letterheads and envelopes for students at the Drug Store.

We have both a large and small job press and are able to turn out any job work upon short notice.

We used to have a pretty spell in February, but things have changed and gone out of date. It may be that the pretty spell is a thing of the past too.

The wood thieves in Dahlonega kept pretty busy during the last cold weather. They would slip into the porches after night and steal the wood after it was cut up.

Our informant last week was mistaken about Mrs. Harris and J. F. Moore purchasing the Dr. Howard store here. Trade is only pending and may never be made.

In this week's paper, on the first page, we give you the list of post-offices of THE NUGGET. This visits outside of Georgia. This add to the number of Georgia offices make 116, not including the Dahlonega post-office, which shows that this paper is read both at home and abroad. Can any country paper beat this?

A Colonial Fair will begin at Boston, Mass., on next Tuesday and continue for five days. Those interested are desirous of having various minerals, and farm products of the 13 original states displayed at the fair.

As Georgia is one of the original thirteen, Capt. Ingersoll, of Dahlonega, shipped by express this week, samples of kaolin, mica, gold ore, cotton bowls, &c., from Lumpkin county, and doubtless this action on the part of the Captain will result in something good for this country.

There is good deal of complaint about people loafing around in town doing nothing for months, and the attention of members of the council has been called to it, requesting the body see that the vagrant law is enforced here.

It is said that one young man in particular would sit around the stoves in the stores during the recent blizzards while his sister was cutting and carrying fuel in from the woods to her mother to keep her from freezing. If this is true that young man had better leave or get to work.

Recently something was said about having tickets printed for an entertainment to come off in Dahlonega soon, when it was remarked, so we understand, that parties might get the type, duplicates and the tickets.

If the work is done at THE NUGGET office we will insure those interested that they need not have any fear of a thing of this kind being done. None of THE NUGGET forces any entertainments, and no free tickets are used. Why, bless your life, we see on our table now a ticket tendered us by Mr. Upshaw for his lecture here some time ago, and Mr. Upshaw was a man who was respected by all and loved, and almost worshipped by some. None of his tickets were duplicated.

The 15th inst. was the day fixed by Mr. Lindsay to pay over the pension money for the soldiers and widows of Lumpkin county, and ex-Ordinary Huff went down to Atlanta after it, but failed to get the money. The papers had all been signed up by him before his term of office expired, but after that he was taken charge of the office. Mr. Huff's work in an official capacity was at an end, and this is why Mr. Huff did not get the money. Since this, new vouchers have been made out and Judge Evans has given Mr. Huff a power of attorney to collect this money. As soon as Commissioner Lindsay recovers sufficiently from a spell of sickness to return to his office the payment of pensions will continue. Mr. Lindsay is expected to be able for duty in a few days and when the time comes again for Lumpkin county pensioners to receive their money they will be notified through the columns of THE NUGGET. Lawyer—Mr. Huff received the check Tuesday and is now paying off.

College Club House letterheads will be found at B. R. Meaders & Sons.

During the fast severe blizzard two of the cylinders of the Crown Mountain pump bursted.

Bill Seitz, col., who used to live in this county and was the only colored mail contractor we ever had, was heard from last week. He is now in the Indian Territory farming, and has married an Indian woman, doing much better than carrying mails.

It is said that a certain husband has deserted his wife and children in Dahlonega, leaving them at the mercy of the world with nothing to go upon. This fellow used to be a heathen sympathizer and attended church on big occasions and would sit and sing until he could be heard seven-eights of a mile.

A few nights ago it is said that one of the former patients of the Keeley Institute came into town with his stomach full of corn juice besides some of the liquid in a bottle. This shows that is useless for a person to go to this institute and spend money for the whiskey habit before first making up his mind to quit drinking liquor and then stick to it.

U. S. Deputy Collector Rich- ardon and Marshal Grizzel do not stop for bad weather. On Thursday of last week they went down into Dawson county and found D. T. Hyden, Jr., C. B. Fletcher and W. C. Foster in an illicit distillery while it was in full blast. All were brought to Dahlonega. It was proved that Hyden was only a visitor and he was released. The other two were bound over.

A few Sundays ago a farmer and tenant hauled up fodder, and another hauled wood. These men are in the jury box of Lumpkin county. This proves what we have often said, "that there was plenty of work for missionaries right here at home without going to the trouble and expense of sending men off into foreign countries in search of such." Now, if these men were on a jury for the purpose of trying some one for breaking the Sabbath what would they do? Don't all speak at once.

We received a letter last week from J. R. Gunn, who is now general manager of the Georgia Industrial Home at Macon, Ga., requesting us to send him a list of names of persons here who would likely donate from $5 up to $100 to that institution.

Most of our county readers will likely remember Mr. Gunn. He is the man who came here a few months ago and filled the pulpit at the Baptist church for a while and tried to drive people to heaven instead of getting in front and coaxing them to follow, and because ye editor didn't go to hear him and see him act, it made him mad, causing him to shield himself in the pulpit afterwards, where he opened wide his mouth and out came fire, smoke and lava, intended to be dropped on THE NUGGET and its editor but it was merely a big fizz and amounted to nothing. The Lord paid no attention to what he said if it got in hearing. Mr. Gunn paid no attention to him to soon wind up his business here and leave Dahlonega. It may be that Mr. Gunn is in the right place now when he was walking the streets here one day he said he felt like a June Bug. Children are fond of the presence of such bugs, and if he still feels that way both winter and summer these unfortunate children will have something to amuse themselves until they grow older. We will send him no names but if any of our readers wish to contribute any thing for the proposed "Munford Memorial Hall" they know what to do, but at the same time they should remember that there are just such unfortunate children right in Lumpkin county living in little humble cottages that are in a worse condition who ought first to receive some attention and aid.

The carriers didn't get the papers through from Gainesville last Tuesday owing to the late rains and swollen streams.

E. E. Stringer, of Half Way, Ga., who recently went down to Try Alabama, has returned to the old state, he says to stay.

T. M. Ray, superintendent of the Handmine, took sick one day last week with a throat disease and was confined to his bed for a few days but is now able to be at his post again.

The case of J. E. Howell vs. W. W. Crissom in which the justice rendered a decision of $15.00 and cost in favor of the plaintiff recently, has been carried to the Superior court by the defendant.

We have certainly got a good lot of subscribers. They didn't forget the printer during the bad weather, but either came in or sent checks to renew their subscriptions to THE NUGGET all along.

On Friday of last week Mrs. Agnes Dorson, of this county, fell and injured one of her hips so as to give her much pain. She was unable to get up by herself and lay until a Mr. Stover came along and assisted her.

Yesterday and day before were pretty sunny days. Oh how everybody did enjoyed them. Even the little birds sang like it was spring of the year.

On Saturday last two boys, Jim Garret and Bob Free, got into a racket, resulting in the latter being struck on the forehead with a rock by the other. Not serious.

J. P. Evans, formerly of Lumpkin, but now of White county, spent several days in Dahlonega this week, meeting and shaking hands with his many old friends here.

F. W. Bainbridge, after spending some few days down at Thomasville, Ga., where he carried his wife to improve her health, is expected to return today as we go to press.

County Treasurer Hollifield received from the state last Saturday $258.46, Lumpkin county's portion of money received from the hire of convicts for another quarter, making $617.59 of this fund he now has on hand, which will be spent for the improvement of the roads as directed by the grand jury of this county, though it may not be used in the two certain ones specified by that body. The law gives the grand jury of each county a right to say whether it shall be spent on the roads or for public schools, but it cannot say what roads shall be improved.

So Judge Evans will use it on such roads as he deems proper. At the Colonial Hall the other night they danced by the music of a brass drum and several brass horns. At first some, not knowing what it meant, thought that a Salvation Army had entered the town.

A brass door key, belonging to the colored Baptist church, has been lost. It shuns up like a knife. The one finding it will please turn it over to Billy Riley, or to some of the other members of that church.

W. B. Evans, a brother of our ordinary, who has been in Colorado for the last seventeen years, is here on a visit to his many relatives and friends in Lumpkin county. Mr. Evans reached Dahlonega on Tuesday afternoon and he said that it snowed on him all the way from Colorado to Birmingham, Ala.

T. J. Smith & Bro's spring clothing has been received. It is a good brand, made nice, strong and durable at prices that are in the reach of all. Don't fail to see them for they have something to please all, both large and small. They also propose to make it to your interest to visit their store when in need of any other goods.

Rev. Mr. Marchant, the new pastor of the Methodist church, gave our office a pleasant visit of an hour or more on Wednesday afternoon. The gentleman does not make himself disagreeable by mixing religion and business together, nor try to throw a destructive bomb into the camps of sinners like some so-called preachers we have had here. He goes to the church, explains the way for people to get to a better world and invites them to start.

On Wednesday the large flag, given this county as a prize for the largest vote cast for Hon. Thomas M. Bell for congress in proportion to the number of registered voters, was hung out in front of the court house veranda on Washington's birth day. It was very appropriate for the occasion, as it contained this great man's picture, besides being a confederate flag under which several old veterans passed into the ordinary's office that day to receive their pensions for services rendered in the civil war, while fighting under stars and bars similar to the sheriff of White.

J. F. Sargent's letter received too late. Will appear next week.

There has been snow on the Findley hill for the past four weeks.

G. D. Bruce went down this week to purchase more goods for his store here.

We are glad to state that G. W. Vaughn, who was expected to die last week, is recovering.

Our friend D. L. Pitner, who left Dahlonega a few months ago, is now at Colorado Springs, Col.

Last week the grip arrested sheriff Davis of this place, and kept him in custody for several days.

Mr. Rush, of St. Louis, in company with another gentleman, has been down this week looking over the Briar Patch property.

We learn that Charlie Housley, of Dahlonega, had one of his feet badly crushed by a piece of falling timber over at Ducktown the other day.

Yesterday and day before were pretty sunny days. Oh how everybody did enjoy them. Even the little birds sang like it was spring of the year.

On Saturday last two boys, Jim Garret and Bob Free, got into a racket, resulting in the latter being struck on the forehead with a rock by the other. Not serious.

J. P. Evans, formerly of Lumpkin, but now of White county, spent several days in Dahlonega this week, meeting and shaking hands with his many old friends here.

F. W. Bainbridge, after spending some few days down at Thomasville, Ga., where he carried his wife to improve her health, is expected to return today as we go to press.

At the Colonial Hall the other night they danced by the music of a brass drum and several brass horns. At first some, not knowing what it meant, thought that a Salvation Army had entered the town.

A brass door key, belonging to the colored Baptist church, has been lost. It shuns up like a knife. The one finding it will please turn it over to Billy Riley, or to some of the other members of that church.

W. B. Evans, a brother of our ordinary, who has been in Colorado for the last seventeen years, is here on a visit to his many relatives and friends in Lumpkin county. Mr. Evans reached Dahlonega on Tuesday afternoon and he said that it snowed on him all the way from Colorado to Birmingham, Ala.

T. J. Smith & Bro's spring clothing has been received. It is a good brand, made nice, strong and durable at prices that are in the reach of all. Don't fail to see them for they have something to please all, both large and small. They also propose to make it to your interest to visit their store when in need of any other goods.

Rev. Mr. Marchant, the new pastor of the Methodist church, gave our office a pleasant visit of an hour or more on Wednesday afternoon. The gentleman does not make himself disagreeable by mixing religion and business together, nor try to throw a destructive bomb into the camps of sinners like some so-called preachers we have had here. He goes to the church, explains the way for people to get to a better world and invites them to start.

On Wednesday the large flag, given this county as a prize for the largest vote cast for Hon. Thomas M. Bell for congress in proportion to the number of registered voters, was hung out in front of the court house veranda on Washington's birth day. It was very appropriate for the occasion, as it contained this great man's picture, besides being a confederate flag under which several old veterans passed into the ordinary's office that day to receive their pensions for services rendered in the civil war, while fighting under stars and bars similar to the sheriff of White.

There were two dances in Dahlonega on Tuesday night. A dance occurs here nearly every week and our opinion is that the boys who attend them regularly had better divide up their time a little more with their studies and literary societies, either of which will benefit them, while dancing doesn't. This they will realize later on maybe when it is too late.

The legislature at its next session should pass a law for the appointment of tax assessors for each county by all means and let taxation be more equal. All men won't swear the truth when it comes to returning their taxable property. Some old men supposed to be upright and honest, make false returns, although they know that their days are short on earth, yet they are willing to run the risk for the sake of a few dollars. You who are acquainted in Lumpkin county take up her digest and see if we are not correct. Will either have to have tax assessors or do bar such from any privileges in a court of justice, for where men will swear falsely to save from fifty cents on up, they are certainly dangerous people in court.

Russian's Sunken Treasure.

An engineering publication states that the cost of one of our battleships, including armament, is all told, nearly $5,000,000, and Russian battleships probably cost, ready for action, about the same. In view of this fact, it would seem likely that Russia's loss of warships in the far East since the war began totals about $125,000,000, and may amount to $150,000,000. This estimate includes not only the battleships, cruisers and destroyers of the Port Arthur fleet, but the two vessels sunk at Chemulpo and the Burik of the Vladivostok squadron, sunk in the battle of August 14. Enormous coal bills, costly repairs, provisioning, the training and wages of inefficient naval officers—all have been waste. If to this naval loss be added the cost of fortifying Port Arthur town in Manchuria, half a billion will appear to have been thrown away so far on "brilliant diplomacy" in the far East, to say nothing of Kurokaptin's army. —Baltimore Sun.

Look After the Boy.

I had once in my Sunday school a class of boys from ten to twelve years old. They belonged to good families.

One day, three or four years later, one of the members came and confessed to me that he had been drinking, and that his parents had found it out, and he begged me to tell his mother, who was almost insane with extreme anxiety, that he would never drink again. But he did, and went from bad to worse till he disappeared. Friends of another came to ask counsel what to do, because he had forged a check. Employers of another told me that he had made false entries in their books, and defrauded them of money. Another became engaged to a charming girl, but she broke the engagement because he drank, and in a few years he died a drunkard. None of these boys at ten years of age seemed likely to be exposed to the temptation to drink.

Mean, Meaner, Meanest.

There were four of them in the smoking department of the car when the traveler from Chicago happened to say: "That reminds me of a man out in my town who is so mean that he makes the members of his house write small hands, in order to save ink."

"A friend o' my father's, sub, wuz even than that," came promptly from the Balmorean. "He stopped the clocks at night, anh, because o' the wear and tear on the works."

The Philadelphia: "Well, there's a good old Quaker out in Wayne who won't read the papers. Wears out his glasses, says he."

All three looked inquiringly at the man from New York, but he merely smiled and rang for the waiter to take the orders.—Smart Set.

There are said to be in this country about 1,000 persons who receive a higher salary than the president of the United States. This is just that number too many. An annual salary of $50,000 is as high as compensation should be fixed for anybody. Insurance and railroad companies pay unreasonably high salaries—as high as $100,000. Some corporation attorneys get more than $50,000, but insurance and railroad companies are the most generous in paying high salaries. It is easy to figure out who has to pay these big salaries.—Ex.

A man in a neighboring town who secured his wife through a matrimonial agency is trying to secure a divorce. Just another instance of finding that small order bargains are not just as represented and that a much better grade of the same article could have been obtained at home. Good enough for him; he ought to patronize home industry. The home grown article is usually the best.—Ex.

Bishop Brent of Manila is credited with this remark: "The Methodists raise the people out of the mud, the Baptists wash them, the Congregationalists iron them, and the Episcopalians starch them."

In Lapland the crime which is punished most severely, next to murder, is the marrying of a girl against the express wish of her parents.
